McGrady Remains in City;
May Confer With Striking
Representatives

NEW YORK, March 6.—(UP)—The strike of building service employees spread to fashionable mid-town hotels today and union leaders planned to make the skyscrapers of the Grand Central business zone their next target.

Chris C. Houlihan, president of local 32-C of the Building Service Employees' International union, sent strike orders to 16 hotels. Among the first affected, according to Houlihan, were the Bar-bizon-Plaza, Windsor, Wynham, Murray, Peter Stuyvesant, Alden, and Masters.

Elevator men, maids and housemen walked out, but the managements claimed to have replacements.

10,395 Buildings Hit

James J. Bambrick, head of local 32-B of the International Union which started the strike last Sunday night, claimed 10,395 buildings now were affected by the walkout. He said union agreements had been signed with owners of 1,448 buildings.

Police estimated that 115 buildings had signed with the union in the Washington Heights and Harlem areas since yesterday afternoon when the strike was extended to these districts.

Mayor La Guardia, undeterred by the deadlock between real estate representatives and the union.

News Flashes

EPIDEMIC SPREADS

HARLAN, Ky., March 6.—(UP)—An alarming spread of spinal meningitis brought virtual quarantine of Harlan county today. Urged by the county medical association to prohibit public gatherings, Dr. W. P. Haywood, county health officer, ordered closing of churches, theaters and all other assemblies except schools.

FAIRBANKS IN ACTION

PARIS, March 6.—(UP)—Douglas Fairbanks (begged) the doors of French officials today in a whirlwind effort to get permission for his immediate marriage to Lady Ashley. He even sent an airplane to London for some needed papers.

STOCK MART FIRM

NEW YORK, March 6.—(UP)—Allied chemical jumped 2 points to a new high at 194 at the opening of the Stock exchange today and the remainder of the market firmed fractions to a point. Bonds were mixed, Cotton higher and the dollar firm in terms of gold monies.

STRIKERS WARNED

JEANNETTE, Pa., March 6.—(UP)—Eight hundred rubber workers who walked out of the Pennsylvania Rubber company plant for a "holiday" Tuesday, will decide Sunday on their response to an ultimatum from the company that it will close down the plant unless they return to their jobs.

YOUNG PLEDGES OHIO NEW DEAL

Status of Mosier, Also Clevelander, Leaves Issue in Doubt

CLEVELAND, March 6.—(UP)—Congressman Stephen M. Young of Cleveland, in announcing his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for governor, today pledged his efforts "to end graft and favoritism" in state government.

Young, congressman-at-large for four years, entered the race against Governor Martin L. Davey after twice declining to seek the nomination. He reconsidered his decision at the insistence of friends.

What of Mosier?

Lieut. Gov. Harold G. Mosier, also of Cleveland, announced several weeks ago he would seek the Democratic nomination for governor. Democratic leaders speculated today on whether Mosier would withdraw from the field.

The Young announcement was sent here from his Washington office.

"It is time to end pussyfooting, inefficiency, hypocrisy and corruption in the conduct of the public business of the people of Ohio," Young said in a statement accompanying his announcement.

"The day I become governor will mark an end to graft and favoritism in the liquor, highway and all departments. I will govern from the executive offices."

"Ohio needs a new deal in government. It will be a battle against the power of organized greed."

SEED CORN COSTS $3 AS SHORTAGE EXISTS IN STATE

Pickaway-co farmers are paying $3 a bushel for 1934 crop seed at the crib, according to reports Friday morning at the Farm Bureau offices.

While a large part of the 1934 crop was not seriously damaged by the severe weather, farmers have been warned to make careful tests to determine the germinating power.

Tests made at the Farm Bureau show the 1934 corn is averaging about 85 to 90 per cent while tests on the 1935 crop show the corn is averaging about 50 per cent, and is worthless for seeding.

Pickaway-co farmers are faced with a serious shortage this year. There is insufficient old corn in the county to meet the demands and predictions indicate prices will be high in 1918 when all seed corn in the county was destroyed by severe weather, corn imported from other districts sold at $8 to $10 per bushel.

Leaflets showing the proper methods of testing corn are being distributed at the Farm Bureau. They have an ample supply and are free.

WALLACE CAR UNREPORTED

No trace has been found of the Buick sedan of W. E. Wallace, local baker, stolen in Columbus Tuesday night, local officers reported Friday noon.

ROOSEVELT AND FARLEY CONSIDER HERO STAMPS

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—President Roosevelt revealed today that he has been discussing with Postmaster General James A. Farley the possibility of issuing a new series of stamps commemorating army and navy heroes.

Mr. Roosevelt said that the matter was in the discussion stage and he added that it was not contemplated to have more than a series of five such stamps.

POLICE IN DRIVE AGAINST TRAFFIC LAW VIOLATIONS

Two Forfeit Fines, One Discharged, Other Faces
Hearing as Result

Police opened a drive on traffic violators Friday.

Four autoists, two men and two women, were ordered before Mayor Graham Thursday for parking violations. John K. Barton, Columbus, and N. K. Barton, city, forfeited bonds of $2 each Friday morning when they failed to appear in court. Police reported Miss Dorothy Clark was discharged on a traffic violation and Miss Zelma Hoffman posted $2 bond to appear Friday evening.

Alva Shaheen, acting police chief, reported cars parked at theater entrances, in safety and fire hydrant zones, and blocking alleys, would be tagged.

STOCKS CLIMB TO NEW HIGHS

Industrial Issues Touch Highest Marks Since 1931

NEW YORK, March 6.—(UP)—Industrial stocks shot up to new highs since 1931 in the average today while several rails made new tops for the year and utilities advanced.

Gains ranged to more than 2 points with several high priced shares up as much as 7½ points in allied chemical, which reached 199½.

Chrysler reached 101½ up 2½ points and a new high since 1929. General Motors made a 6-year high, touching 83½ up a point. United States Steel common touched 67½ up 1½ and equal to its high since 1933.

Silver shares were in demand with American Smelting at a new high of 72½ up 2 points and a new high. Federal Mining was at 90 up 6½ and U. S. Smelting rose 2 points to 53½. Homestake sold at 500, unchanged, in the gold group.

New highs for the year or longer were made by such issues as American Chain at 47 up 1½; Deere 76½ up 2½; Electric Power issues which had gains ranging to 2 points; National Distillers 33 up 1½; and Union Pacific 137½ up ½.

USE OF NEW LICENSE TAGS BRINGS ARREST

Local officers were notified Friday that Wilbur Craft, 46, of N. Pickaway-st, released from the county jail Thursday, was under arrest in Newark for using new tags. Craft was sent to the local jail on Dec. 23 to serve out a fine of $100 and costs assessed by W. B. Cady, former mayor, for resisting Officer Alva Shaheen.

George E. Hammel, local registrar, notified the police department Friday that he had received several reports of autoists using new licenseplates. He told officers purchasers were being warned to use the tags before March 10.

MILK DELIVERIES TO AKRON HOMES ENDED BY STRIKE

Housewives Forced to Walk to Dairy Plants as Drivers
Leave Jobs

17,000 MEN NOW IDLE

Negotiations to End Chemical Company Trouble Scheduled Saturday

AKRON, March 6.—(UP)—Home delivery of milk, stopped early today in a three-cornered controversy between striking truck drivers, dairy companies and farmer-producers, must be resumed under armed guard if necessary, Prosecutor Herman Werner ordered today.

AKRON, March 6.—(UP)—Milk for home delivery was shut off by producers today in support of dairy companies, drivers for one of which are on strike in one of Akron's four labor disputes.

Housewives walked to dairy plants for milk, with about 75 per cent of the city's normal supply being trucked in from the farms of members of the Summit-co and the Independent Producers' associations.

Deliver to Hospitals

Deliveries to hospitals and other institutions were permitted by the farmers.

The milk "strike" further confused Akron's labor situation, which in less than three weeks has made 17,000 men idle. The strike and enforced shut-down at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company remained the most important dispute and held the threat of a general strike over the city.

Union drivers picketed the Averill Dairy company after negotiations for higher wages failed. Paul Richards, secretary of the Summit-co Producers' association, said farmers considered the action discriminated against the company.

A shut down which five employees termed a "lock-out" continued at the Palmer Match company. Company officials served notice they would hold the city responsible for any damage.

Idle in Barborton

Negotiations to end the strike at the Columbia Chemical company suburban Barborton, where 1,000 men are idle, were planned for tomorrow.

DOHERTY PROFIT OF 17 MILLIONS CLAIMED IN 1929

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—Testimony was presented to senate lobby investigators today that Henry L. Doherty disposed of 200,000 shares of his Cites Service company stock in 1929 at a profit of $17,748,032.

Sen. Ernest W. Gibson, R., Vt., commented on testimony that, in 1929, the company employees were being induced to invest in the concern.

"That leaves us with the picture of Mr. Doherty taking a good profit and leaving his employees holding the bag."

ABSENCE IS CHARGED IN TURNER DIVORCE ACTION

Charging willful absence for more than three years, Wilbur Turney, city, filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Friday against Mildred Brown Turney, Columbus.

They were married in Chillicothe in August, 1927 and have no children. They have not lived together since 1932, the action charges.

The contested divorce case of One Seymour against Charles Seymour was being heard by Judge Joseph W. Adkins in common pleas court Friday.

MEDIC TO OPERATE ON LAUGHING GIRL

WESTON, W. Va., March 6.—(UP)—A surgeon at the Weston state hospital today was ready to undertake an operation which doctors at one of the country's famed medical centers termed hopeless one week ago.

Dr. J. E. Offner, superintendent of the state hospital here, planned to operate late today on pretty Teresa Hawkins, 18-year-old honor student at a Fairmont business school, who has been dangerously ill from violent attacks of laughter.

Teresa was seized with her laughing attacks while attending a movie at Fairmont. She was taken to Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., where doctors said they were unable to relieve her condition.

McLaglen, Bette Davis Win Screen Recognition

Stars of "The Informer" and "Dangerous" for Best Picture
Performances of 1935 Voted Honors

HOLLYWOOD, March 6.—(UP)—Lumbering, harsh-voiced Victor McLaglen and tiny, blonde Bette Davis, both of whom achieved their greatest screen fame when cast in "tough" roles, today were hailed for the best movie performances of 1935.

McLaglen, wartime provost of Bagdad and former professional boxer, received the gold statuette of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for his portrayal of the title role in "The Informer," story of the Irish rebellion.

Miss Davis, believed by many to have been entitled to the award of merit last year when Claudette Colbert received the statuette, won the best performance prize her role in the production "Dangerous."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's story of brutality in the British navy more than a century ago, "Mutiny on the Bounty," was acclaimed the finest production of 1935.

Although the Banquet hall where the eighth annual academy awards were disclosed was jammed with film personalities, the function was robbed of some of the foremost writers and actors who boycotted the affair because of hostility between their guilds and the academy.

John Ford, R.K.O. director of "The Informer," was presented a statuette for ranking first in his branch of the profession while "The Informer" also was ranked second in the best production lists.

Paul Muni, versatile screen star, achieved the only "write-in" success in the acting lists, finishing second to McLaglen for his work in "The Life of Louis Pasteur." Charles Laughton was third for his part of "Captain Bligh" in "Mutiny on the Bounty."

In the feminine acting list, Katherine Hepburn, temperamental New England actress, was given second rating for her work in "Alice Adams." Tiny Elisabeth Bergner, Austrian actress, was ranked third for her performance in the English production, "Escape Me Never."

Charles MacArthur and Ben Hecht were rated the best writers of an original screen story for their production of "The Scoundrel." Dudley Nichols won the statuette for the best adapting job on "The Informer."

BRITISH NOBLEWOMEN ORDERED FROM BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil March 6.—(UP)—Lady Marian Cameron, daughter of the Earl of Huntingdon; her sister-in-law, Viscountess Hastings, and Richard G. Freeman, a British subject, were under orders today to leave Brazil by the next boat.

Authorities said their presence was undesirable because of their anxiety to investigate the communist roundup under way in Brazil. Their explanation that they are members of the International Anti-Slavery league did not satisfy officials. They were escorted to police headquarters and questioned, after which they were placed under guard at their hotel.

DISTRICT REPUBLICANS TRYING TO AGREE ON ONE CANDIDATE; DELEGATES NAMED AT CONFAB

H. Stanley Lewis One of Three Considered for Party Indorsement; William Radcliff Voted
as Alternate, C. C. Chappellear as Elector

Republicans of the 11th Congressional district were nearly ready today to open fire for Mell G. Underwood's place in the lower house after a meeting of chairmen of Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, Perry and Hocking-cos in Lancaster Thursday.

The conference was called by John P. Phillips Jr., state central committeeman for the district.

Mr. Phillips, a Chillicothean, reported Friday that three candidates for the Republican nomination were mentioned favorably for wholehearted support of the committee, but that no agreement has yet been reached. "We are trying," he reported, "to combine the five counties behind one man to prevent a primary squabble."

Mentioned for the nomination were:

Stanley Lewis Mentioned

H. Stanley Lewis, this city, former county farm agent now operating a farm management service.

L. P. Mooney, Logan, former leader of the Ohio house of representatives.

John Furness, Lancaster, insurance man.

Two candidates that the county leaders agreed to "stay off of," according to Mr. Phillips, were Dean M. Hickson, former school man, and Tom White, who contested Benek W. Dunlap for the nomination two years ago. Mr. Dunlap is now convalescing in a Columbus hospital after a motor operation and is believed out of the race.

Mr. Phillips indicated another meeting would be held soon to try to settle the indorsement.

District leaders at one time seemed certain to indorse C. E. Ruble, Fairfield-co probate judge, but he declined the nomination to run for another term in probate court.

Chappellear Elector

Charles C. Chappellear, W. High-st, was chosen by the district leaders as presidential elector.

Mr. Phillips was indorsed again as district central committeeman and the same honor was voted Mrs. Lottie Randolph of New Lexington, the incumbent.

William D. Radcliff, mayor of Williamsport and a practicing attorney in this city, was chosen as an alternate delegate to the national convention.

Delegates are J. W. Huddle of Lancaster and Dr. James Miller of New Lexington. Russell Rising of Lancaster is the other alternate.

Mr. Phillips declared the delegates were pledged to the "favorite son" plan as supported by the state Republican executive committee. Robert Taft of Cincinnati has been designated as Ohio's "favorite son" for the G.O.P. nomination.

Tom A. Renick, C. C. Chappellear and William Radcliff attended the meeting.

SENATORS HALT EFFORT TO AIR HAGOOD OUSTER

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—The senate military affairs committee refused today to intercede in the Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood incident and recommended rejection of a resolution for an investigation of the eighth corps area commander's removal from active duty.

The committee voted 12 to 2 to report adversely on the resolution proposed by Sen. Jesse Metcalf, R., R. I. In its report the committee stated that freedom of speech was not involved in the case.

GAS REGULATION ASKED IN HOUSE

California Solon Drafts Bill
After Conference

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—Federal regulation of the gas industry was introduced in the U. S. House today by a California congressman.

The proposal was introduced by Rep. Charles C. Chappellear, who said that gas prices had risen to a point during the past year.

Rep. Chappellear said the bill would give the Federal Trade Commission authority to regulate the interstate commerce of gas, and to approach to conservation and production questions, and names the Federal power commission as the Federal regulatory body.

The bill's scope is confined to transportation of natural gas interstate commerce, and to approach to conservation and production questions, and names the Federal power commission as the Federal regulatory body.

TRAFFIC BEING DIRECTED AT HIGH-ST INTERSECTION

Superintendent of Schools Frank Fischer took precautions Friday against traffic accidents at the intersection near the High-st school. Much motor traffic is being detoured past the school because of the Court-st repaving project.

A WPA employee was to be assigned to help direct children across the street.

MILK DELIVERIES TO AKRON HOMES ENDED BY STRIKE

Housewives Forced to Walk to Dairy Plants as Drivers Leave Jobs

17,000 MEN NOW IDLE

Negotiations to End Chemical Company Trouble Scheduled Saturday

AKRON, March 6.—(UP)—

Home delivery of milk, stopped early today in a three-cornered controversy between striking truck drivers, dairy companies and farmer-producers, must be resumed under armed guard if necessary, Prosecutor Herman Werner ordered today.

AKRON, March 6.—(UP)—

Milk for home delivery was shut off by producers today in support of dairy companies, drivers for one of which are on strike in one of Akron's four labor disputes.

Housewives walked to dairy plants for milk, with about 75 per cent of the city's normal supply being trucked in from the farms of members of the Summit-co and the Independent Producers' associations.

Deliver to Hospitals

Deliveries to hospitals and other institutions were permitted by the farmers.

The milk "strike" further confused Akron's labor situation, which in less than three weeks has made 17,000 men idle. The strike and enforced shut-down at the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company remained the most important dispute and held the threat of a general strike over the city.

Union drivers picketed the Averill Dairy company after negotiations for higher wages failed. Paul Richards, secretary of the Summit-co Producers' association, said farmers considered the action discriminated against the company.

A shut down which five employees termed a "lock-out" continued at the Palmer Match company. Company officials served notice they would hold the city responsible for any damage.

Idle in Barberton

Negotiations to end the strike at the Columbia Chemical company suburban Barberton, where 1,000 men are idle, were planned for tomorrow.

DOHERTY PROFIT OF 17 MILLIONS CLAIMED IN 1929

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—Testimony was presented to senate lobby investigators today that Henry L. Doherty disposed of 200,000 shares of his Cites Service company stock in 1929 at a profit of $17,748,032.

Sen. Ernest W. Gibson, R., Vt., commented on testimony that, in 1929, the company employees were being induced to invest in the concern.

"That leaves us with the picture of Mr. Doherty taking a good profit and leaving his employees holding the bag."

ABSENCE IS CHARGED IN TURNERY DIVORCE ACTION

Charging willful absence for more than three years, Wilbur Turney, city, filed suit for divorce in common pleas court Friday against Mildred Brown Turney, Columbus.

The contested divorce case of Ona Seymour against Charles Seymour was being heard by Judge Joseph W. Adkins in common pleas court Friday.

MEDIC TO OPERATE ON LAUGHING GIRL

WESTON, W. Va., March 6.—(UP)—A surgeon at the Weston state hospital today was ready to undertake an operation which doctors at one of the country's famed medical centers termed hopeless one week ago.

Dr. J. E. Offner, superintendent of the state hospital here, planned to operate late today on pretty Teresa Hawkins, 18-year-old honor student at a Fairmont business school, who has been dangerously ill from violent attacks of laughter.

Teresa was seized with her laughing attacks while attending a movie at Fairmont. She was taken to Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore, Md., where doctors said they were unable to relieve her condition.

The girl was brought here and placed under the care of Dr. Offner, who succeeded in halting the paroxysms.

It was believed a pelvic ailment caused the attack. Dr. Offner was forced to delay the operation until Teresa's general condition would permit it.

He said today she appeared somewhat stronger and that for the last day the laughing spells had been at greater intervals and not as prolonged as previously.

The operation will be performed by Dr. Offner with the aid of his regular staff. He estimated it would necessitate having Teresa on the operating table for approximately one hour.

HOLLYWOOD, March 6.—(UP)—Lumbering, harsh-voiced Victor McLaglen and tiny, blonde Bette Davis, both of whom achieved their greatest screen fame when cast in "tough" roles, today were hailed for the best movie performances of 1935.

McLaglen, wartime provost of Bagdad and former professional boxer, received the gold statuette or the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences for his portrayal of the title role in "The Informer," story of the Irish rebellion.

Miss Davis, believed by many to have been entitled to the award of merit last year when Claudette Colbert received the statuette, won the best performance prize her role in the production "Dangerous."

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's story of brutality in the British navy more than a century ago, "Mutiny on the Bounty," was acclaimed the finest production of 1935.

Although the Banquet hall where the eighth annual academy awards were disclosed was jammed with film personalities, the function was robbed of some of the foremost writers and actors who boycotted the affair because of hostility between their guilds and the academy.

John Ford, R.K.O. director of "The Informer," was presented a statuette for ranking first in his branch of the profession while "The Informer" also was ranked second in the best production lists. "Captain Blood" was third.

Paul Muni, versatile screen star, achieved the only "write-in" success in the acting lists, finishing second to McLaglen for his work in "The Life of Louis Pasteur." Charles Laughton was third for his part of "Captain Bligh" in "Mutiny on the Bounty."

In the feminine acting list, Katherine Hepburn, temperamental New England actress, was given second rating for her work in "Alice Adams." Tiny Elisabeth Bergner, Austrian actress, was ranked third for her performance in the English production, "Escape Me Never."

Charles Mac Arthur and Ben Hecht were rated the best writers of an original screen story for their production of "The Scoundrel." Dudley Nichols won the statuette for the best adapting job on "The Informer."

BRITISH NOBLEWOMEN ORDERED FROM BRAZIL

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil March 6.—(UP)—Lady Marian Cameron, daughter of the Earl of Huntingdon; her sister-in-law, Viscountess Hastings, and Richard G. Freeman, a British subject, were under orders today to leave Brazil by the next boat.

Authorities said their presence was undesirable because of their anxiety to investigate the communist roundup under way in Brazil. Their explanation that they are members of the International Anti-Slavery league did not satisfy officials. They were escorted to police headquarters and questioned, after which they were placed under guard at their hotel.

DISTRICT REPUBLICANS TRYING TO AGREE ON ONE CANDIDATE; DELEGATES NAMED AT CONFAB

H. Stanley Lewis One of Three Considered for Party Indorsement; William Radcliff Voted as Alternate, C. C. Chappelle as Elector

Republicans of the 11th Congressional district were nearly ready today to open fire for Mel G. Underwood's place in the lower house after a meeting of chairmen of Pickaway, Ross, Fairfield, Perry and Hocking-cos in Lancaster Thursday.

The conference was called by John P. Phillips Jr., state central committeeman for the district.

Mr. Phillips, a Chillicothean, reported Friday that three candidates for the Republican nomination were mentioned favorably for wholehearted support of the committee, but that no agreement has yet been reached. "We are trying," he reported, "to combine the five counties behind one man to prevent a primary squabble."

Mentioned for the nomination were:

Stanley Lewis Mentioned
H. Stanley Lewis, this city, former county farm agent now operating a farm management service.

L. P. Mooney, Logan, former leader of the Ohio house of representatives.

John Furness, Lancaster, insurance man.
Two candidates that the county leaders agreed to "stay off of," according to Mr. Phillips, were Dean M. Hickson, former school man, and Tom White, who contested Renick W. Dunlap for the nomination two years ago. Mr. Dunlap is now convalescing in a Columbus hospital after a major operation and is believed out of the race.

Mr. Phillips indicated another meeting would be held soon to try to settle the indorsement.

District leaders at one time seemed certain to indorse C. E. Ruble, Fairfield-co probate judge, but he declined the nomination to run for another term in probate court.

Chappelle Elector

Charles C. Chappelle, W. High-st, was chosen by the district leaders as presidential elector.

Mr. Phillips was indorsed again as district central committeeman and the same honor was voted Mrs. Lottie Randolph of New Lexington, the incumbent.

William D. Radcliff, mayor of Williamsport and a practicing attorney in this city, was chosen as an alternate delegate to the national convention.

Delegates are J. W. Huddle of Lancaster and Dr. James Miller of New Lexington. Russell Rising of Lancaster is the other alternate.
Mr. Phillips declared the delegates were pledged to the "favorite son" plan as supported by the state Republican executive committee. Robert Taft of Cincinnati has been designated as Ohio's "favorite son" for the G.O.P. nomination.

Tom A. Renick, C. C. Chappelle and William Radcliff attended the meeting.

SENATORS HALT EFFORT TO AIR HAGOOD OUSTER

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—The senate military affairs committee refused today to intercede in the Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood incident and recommended rejection of a resolution for an investigation of the eighth corps area commander's removal from active duty.

The committee voted 12 to 2 to report adversely on the resolution proposed by Sen. Jesse Metcalf, R., I. In its report the committee stated that freedom of speech was not involved in the case.

SEASON FOR FISH TALES ARRIVES; SEVERAL REPORT

The season on fishing stories Russell Valentine, postal employee, has opened took a pound and a quarter bass from Yellowbud creek Wednesday and Leonard Eblin took out one about the same size, Thursday. Leonard was out trying his luck Friday afternoon.

GAS REGULATION ASKED IN HOUSE

California Solon Drafts Bill After Conference

WASHINGTON, March 6.—(UP)—Federal regulation of the natural gas industry was proposed in a bill reported to have administration backing and prepared for introduction in the house today.

The proposal was similar to that eliminated from the utilities control bill during the bitter fight last session.

Rep. Clarence Lea, D., Cal., said the bill was drafted after conferences with Federal Power and Trade commission officials. He said its passage this session, however, "depends on whether it receives direct administration support."

The bill's scope is confined to transportation of natural gas in interstate commerce, recognizes state compacts as the probable approach to conservation and proration questions, and names the federal power commission as the federal regulatory body.

TRAFFIC BEING DIRECTED AT HIGH-ST INTERSECTION

Superintendent of Schools Frank Fischer took precautions Friday against traffic accidents at the intersection near the High-st school. Much motor traffic is being detoured past the school because of the Court-st repaving project.

A WPA employee was to be assigned to help direct children across the street.

VORYS ENTERS ELECTION

COLUMBUS, March 6.—(UP)—John M. Vorys, former state senator and state director of aeronautics, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for congress.

ITALIAN AIRPLANE KILLS BRITISH RED CROSS LEADER

BURGOYNE DIES AS BOMBS FALL ON ETHIOPIANS

Strong Protest Expected from London as Another Aid Station is Wrecked

ADDIS ABABA, March 6. (UP)—Maj. Gerald Achilles Burgoyne, British head of the Ethiopian Red Cross, was killed by an Italian air bombardment of fleeing Ethiopian warriors in the northern area, it was announced officially today.

As the news was announced, an Italian three-motored bombing plane circled 5,000 feet over Addis Ababa, arriving from the south, and the populace feared a bombardment might come soon.

The Exchange Telegraph correspondent at Addis Ababa reported that excited warriors fired machine guns and anti-aircraft guns at the plane without hitting it, as it circled twice over the city, apparently reconnoitering.

High in British Court

Maj. Burgoyne, a distinguished Irish-English soldier and sportsman, and, as St. Patrick Pursuivant for Ireland in the Royal College of Arms, an officer of the British royal court, was killed by a bombardment of warriors of the Dredzmatch Kabada, retreating from their defeat on the northern front, it was announced.

It was indicated that Burgoyne was with his Red Cross unit as the plane bombed the warriors north of Magdala, which is between Dessye, Emperor Haile Selassie's war headquarters, and the front.

His unit was bombed previously on January 16, when 14 persons were killed and 35 wounded. He was present but was not injured.

Announcement of Burgoyne's death, followed by one day an Ethiopian official announcement that Italian planes bombed a British Red Cross unit at Koram, killing three patients and wounding three patients and several native boys of Kenya colony, who are British subjects and under the protection of the British flag.

Protest Indicated

The United Press London correspondent said it was indicated that there would be a strong British protest against this bombardment, despite Italian assertions that the bombing plane was fired on and that there was an ammunition dump near the camp. As soon as the bombardment was announced, authoritative British quarters reminded newspaper correspondents that the government kept Italy continually advised of all movements of its Red Cross units.

Woman's Touch

ONE of the most influential women in New York these days is Sally Deutsch, 28-year-old secretary to James Bambrick, leader of the service strike which has paralyzed metropolitan elevator and fire-room service. She is in command of strike headquarters and is shown giving orders to lieutenants over the phone.

all Tales

DURING a recent windstorm at Tarlton, a high tension wire broke and became entangled in a large elm tree. In a few minutes that old tree was boiling hot. It steamed and sizzled and smoked. A young hopeful stood and watched the catastrophe with eyes and mouth wide open. Suddenly he jumped into the air and cracked his heels together. Then he ran home as fast as his legs could carry him. Selecting a strand of wire he fastened one end to a light socket on the front porch, the other to a large sugar maple that stood nearby and turned on the juice. Then he tapped the tree and waited results. In a few minutes that old tree began to pour out its sap all boiled down and ready for the pancakes. He began offering pure maple syrup for sale to the passersby and in a short time was doing a lucrative business. The next day every maple tree in the village was wired and tapped.

HOFFMAN AIDE IS FINAL HOPE OF HAUPTMANN

Governor Indicates No Reprieve to Be Granted Without New Evidence

TRENTON, N. J., March 6. (UP)—Gov. Harold G. Hoffman made it apparently certain today that Bruno Richard Hauptmann's hope for life lies with a state motor vehicle inspector en route south to question Dr. John F. (Jasie) Condon.

The governor rested, wearily, on his unqualified admission yesterday that he had no legal power to reprieve Hauptmann again and his inferential statement that he had obtained no evidence he thought would earn the Lindbergh baby killer a new trial.

Needs New Evidence

The inference was read easily into his statement that he would try to postpone Hauptmann's execution no longer "unless something arises that will bring Atty. Gen. David T. Wilentz and myself into agreement on a motion based on new evidence." Hauptmann is scheduled to be electrocuted in the week of March 30.

Andrew Dutch, motor vehicle inspector, thus became Hauptmann's chief hope. Dutch was aboard the liner Georgic, bound for Panama and Cuba.

Hoffman denied in New York last night that Dutch had instructions from him to see Condon, who paid $50,000 ransom for the Lindbergh baby and identified Hauptmann as the receiver. But Hoffman has persistently questioned "obscure points in Condon's testimony and expressed a desire to question him. And inspectors of the state motor vehicle bureau have been active investigators of Hoffman's theories about the case.

In Havana, Dutch is expected to investigate the origin of a letter signed "Isidor Fisch," inquiring about methods of disposing of marked American money, reported to have been sent to a consular official there. Hauptmann has said persistently that he obtained the ransom money from a man named Fisch, who died later in Germany.

VICK CO. TO EXPAND PRODUCTION PLANT

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 6

Plans by Vicks for further expansion of its production facilities in Greensboro were announced today by L. Richardson, president of Vicks Chemical Company. These plans call for a separate laboratory for exclusive production of Vicks Medicated Cough Drops—one of Vicks latest products—the new plant to be completed and in operation by mid-summer.

This step is but one in a program of expansion that Vicks carried on throughout the years of depression—more than doubling its employment rolls during that period. Four years ago, in both Greensboro and Philadelphia, Vicks laboratories were considerably enlarged and facilities added to take care of new products production.

Two years later, these facilities in Philadelphia had to be increased by half again, to meet increasing production quotas from both domestic and export departments. Last year, the steadily growing demand for Vicks VapoRub and Vicks Vapo-nol made necessary extensive alterations and added equipment in the Greensboro laboratories.

An expedition collecting fish on the Great Barrier Reef, off Australia, found tiger sharks 12 feet long among the varieties.

LUTHERAN MEN ENJOY PROGRAM

Members Under 50 Put on Varied Entertainment

The first March meeting of Trinity Lutheran brotherhood held Thursday evening in the parish house was on a par with the sessions of the new year in respect to attendance and interest.

The meeting was recessed for about one-half hour, during which time the lunch committee served roast beef and cheese sandwiches, sweet pickles and coffee.

The entertainment was furnished by the members under fifty years of age, with Charles H. Walters in charge, and was opened by a quartet comprised of Mr. Walters, M. A. Sensenbrenner, C. C. Schwarz and Gladden Troutman singing the "Brotherhood Song."

M. A. Sensenbrenner was next on the program and gave sketches from Rudyard Kipling, appropriately closing his number by reading "When Earth's Last Picture is Painted."

Poem Trumpet Solo

Dudley Carpenter recited one of James Whitcomb Riley's poems, that was well received by the audience; after which Howard Ater played a trumpet solo, "Roll Along Prairie Moon," piano accompaniment being played by Carl Palm.

Charles Walters introduced a new contest entitled "Catching the Bulls by the Horns," dividing the brotherhood into two contesting groups—those under fifty years of age and those over that age.

The score in the first round resulted in the "over fifties" winning 25 to 5 and in the second round 115 to 75. The contest was quite novel and entered into by every member with much enthusiasm.

The program was rounded out by K. J. Herrmann an most interesting talk on his recent sojourn in Florida. Out of respect for R. L. Brehmer who accompanied him on the trip, the "tall fish stories" were omitted, otherwise there was no disappointment in Mr. Herrmann's discourse.

In checking up on the three months attendance contest, it was found that Rev. G. L. Troutman's team is now four points in the lead.

The next regular meeting will be held on Thursday evening March 19 and the program will be put on by members over fifty years of age, with E. Sensenbrenner as director.

THESE FACTS ABOUT BRAN HAVE BEEN PROVED BY TESTS

Supplies Gently Acting "Bulk" to Aid Regular Habits

Now and then, in talking with your friends, the subject of bran has come up. So that real facts might replace unsupported opinions, the Kellogg Company has aided for some years research in leading nutrition laboratories.

Studies made on a group of healthy women showed that two tablespoonsful of bran daily continued to relieve constipation over a period of months. How different from cathartics—where dosage often must be increased.

Another series of tests on men indicated that, with some people, the "bulk" in bran was much more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables.

Further tests showed that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provided vitamin B and iron as well as "bulk." This "bulk" absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system—the right way to correct constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal, with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. It is a natural laxative food. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."

Andrew Dutch, motor vehicle inspector, thus became Hauptmann's chief hope. Dutch was aboard the liner Georgic, bound for Panama and Cuba.

Hoffman denied in New York last night that Dutch had instructions from him to see Condon, who paid $50,000 ransom for the Lindbergh baby and identified Hauptmann as the receiver. But Hoffman has persistently questioned "obscure points in Condon's testimony and expressed a desire to question him. And inspectors of the state motor vehicle bureau have been active investigators of Hoffman's theories about the case.

In Havana, Dutch is expected to investigate the origin of a letter signed "Isidor Fisch", inquiring about methods of disposing of marked American money, reported to have been sent to a consular official there. Hauptmann has said persistently that he obtained the ransom money found upon him from Fisch, who died later in Germany.

VICK CO. TO EXPAND PRODUCTION PLANT

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 6. — Plans by Vicks for further expansion of its production facilities in Greensboro were announced today by L. Richardson, president of Vick Chemical Company. These plans call for a separate laboratory for exclusive production of Vicks Medicated Cough Drops—one of Vicks latest products—the new plant to be completed and in operation by mid-summer.

This step is but one in a program of expansion that Vicks carried on throughout the years of depression—more than doubling its employment rolls during that period. Four years ago, in both Greensboro and Philadelphia, Vicks laboratories were considerably enlarged and facilities added to take care of new products production. Two years later, these facilities in Philadelphia had to be increased by half again, to meet increasing production quotas from both domestic and export departments. Last year, the steadily growing demand for Vicks VapoRub and Vicks Va-tro-nol made necessary extensive alterations and added equipment in the Greensboro laboratories.

An expedition collecting fish on the Great Barrier Reef, off Australia, found tiger sharks 12 feet long among the varieties.

LUTHERAN MEN ENJOY PROGRAM

Members Under 50 Put on Varied Entertainment

The first March meeting of Trinity Lutheran brotherhood held Thursday evening in the parish house was on a par with the sessions of the new year in respect to attendance and interest.

The meeting was recessed for about one-half hour, during which time the lunch committee served roast beef and cheese sandwiches, sweet pickles and coffee.

The entertainment was furnished by the members under fifty years of age, with Charles H. Walters in charge, and was opened by a quartet comprised of Mr. Walters, M. A. Sensenbrenner, C. C. Schwarz and Gladden Troutman singing the "Brotherhood Song."

M. A. Sensenbrenner was next on the program and gave sketches from Rudyard Kipling, appropriately closing his number by reading "When Earth's Last Picture is Painted."

Poem Trumpet Solo

Dudley Carpenter recited one of James Whitcomb Riley's poems, that was well received by the audience; after which Howard Ater played a trumpet solo, "Roll Along Prairie Moon," piano accompaniment being played by Carl Palm.

Charles Walters introduced a new contest entitled "Catching the Bulls by the Horns," dividing the brotherhood into two contesting groups—those under fifty years of age and those over that age.

The score in the first round resulted in the "over fifties" winning 25 to 5 and in the second round 115 to 75. The contest was quite novel and entered into by every member with much enthusiasm.

The program was rounded out by K. J. Herrmann an most interesting talk on his recent sojourn in Florida. Out of respect for R. L. Brehmer who accompanied him on the trip, the "tall fish stories" were omitted, otherwise there was no disappointment in Mr. Herrmann's discourse.

In checking up on the three months attendance contest, it was found that Rev. G. L. Troutman's team is now four points in the lead.

The next regular meeting will be held on Thursday evening March 19 and the program will be put on by members over fifty years of age, with E. Sensenbrenner as director.

THESE FACTS ABOUT BRAN HAVE BEEN PROVED BY TESTS

Supplies Gently Acting "Bulk" to Aid Regular Habits

Now and then, in talking with your friends, the subject of bran has come up. So that real facts might replace unsupported opinions, the Kellogg Company has aided for some years research in leading nutrition laboratories.

Studies made on a group of healthy women showed that two tablespoonfuls of bran daily continued to relieve constipation over a period of months. How different from cathartics—where dosage often must be increased.

Another series of tests on men indicated that, with some people, the "bulk" in bran was much more effective than that found in fruits and vegetables.

Further tests showed that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provided vitamin B and iron as well as "bulk." This "bulk" absorbs moisture, and gently exercises and cleanses the system—the right way to correct constipation.

Serve ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity. Either as a cereal, with milk or cream, or in cooked dishes. It is a natural laxative food. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

*Constipation due to insufficient "bulk."

PARENTS AIDING STUDENTS FIGHT AGAINST ACTION

Alameda, Cal. Threatened With General Ouster Effort; Officials Hit

ALAMEDA, Cal., March 6—(UP)—A strike of 4,500 Alameda school students drew thousands of adult recruits today, threatening to magnify a protest against dismissal of school superintendent William G. Paden into a complete rout of the city administration. Police officials held every available patrolman and radio car on duty until an early hour today at the city hall, high school and other civic administration buildings. Threats to recall Mayor Hans Roebke, City Manager B. Ray Fritz and City Councilmen Bruce Munro and Charles Broyles, and to storm the city hall and establish a de facto city government grew out of a wild demonstration in which 13,000 school children and adults participated.

10,000 at Meeting
Officials estimated 10,000 Alameda voters attended a mass meeting at the high school grounds last night, vociferously acclaiming resolutions that the four city officials be "run out of office."

Three thousand elementary and high school students, meantime attended a bonfire rally in the west end of town. Municipal officials were burned in effigy. The meetings and general amplification of public indignation followed a walkout of an estimated 3,500 students from an elementary school classes in protest to Paden's ouster by a reorganized board of education which appointed Einar Sorenson, Stanford and University of California alumnus, to succeed the veteran educator.

The Alameda council of the Parent-Teachers' association demanded that the county grand jury investigate Paden's removal and the city's political situation in general. Principal opposition to city officials developed among members of the Alameda Voters' League, long-standing opponents of Roebke, the Dads' club and the Parent-Teachers' association. Intensity of the movement was evidenced at last night's mass meeting when Don Morgan, high school student body president credited with organizing the student walkout, was given a standing ovation as he took charge of the adults' meeting.

YOUTH ARRESTED FOR BICYCLE THEFT FREED

Albert Whitacker, 15, held by police after he attempted to take a bicycle from Paul Walters, 14, Water-st, was released from the city jail Friday morning and started on his way home by Juvenile Officer Frank Goff. Whitacker told officers his home was in Charleston, W. Va. Police and juvenile court authorities asked West Virginia authorities to check the youth's history but received no reply.

SEVEN NEW TAX PLANS PROPOSED

Alternatives for Roosevelt's Action Are Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 6—(UP)—A schedule of sharp increases in nuisance and inheritance taxes has been submitted to the house tax subcommittee by the treasury as possible alternatives to President Roosevelt's proposal to increase revenues $620,000,000 by a corporate surplus tax.

The latest alternative schedules submitted by the treasury included the following:

1. An increase of 1/2 cent in the present one cent a gallon gasoline tax to raise $80,000,000.
2. Reimposition of the bank check tax of two cents to raise $47,000,000.
3. A tax on ten per cent of slot machine sales to raise (unofficial estimate) $50,000,000.
4. A special unearned income surtax estimated to raise: 1937 fiscal year $283,200,000; 1938 $472,000,000.
5. Elimination of present corporation dividend exemption from the normal individual income tax to raise: 1937, $54,000,000; 1938, $90,000,000.
6. Abolition of the present $40,000 exemption from estate taxes under the "tax the rich" act to raise: 1937, $31,000,000; 1938, $53,100,000.
7. Imposition of present individual income tax rates on small inheritances and gifts with a credit of $40,000 to raise: 1937, $325,000,000.

TO PAINT MOSQUITOES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 6—(UP)—Chicago mosquitoes are going to be red, blue, yellow, green and orange this summer. J. Lyell Clarke, sanitary engineer of the Des Plaines valley mosquito abatement district, explained to fellow mosquito chasers in convention that he hopes to paint 1,000,000 mosquitoes this year, using a big spray gun. By trapping them next autumn he will be able to tell whether Cicero and Oak Park are raising their own mosquitoes, importing them from South Chicago, or vice versa.

MANSFIELD, March 6—(UP) A mere quarantine on a hospital for meningitis was not enough to stop a proud father from seeing his wife and new-born baby. The father, whose name was not revealed, waded through mud on the hospital grounds, climbed two stories up a drain pipe to the window of his wife's room, and watched for several minutes. After exchanging signs with his wife, he climbed down, happy.

PARENTS AIDING STUDENTS FIGHT AGAINST ACTION

Alameda, Cal. Threatened With General Ouster Effort; Officials Hit

ALAMEDA, Cal., March 6—(UP)—A strike of 4,500 Alameda school students drew thousands of adult recruits today, threatening to magnify a protest against dismissal of school superintendent William G. Paden into a complete rout of the city administration.

Police officials held every available patrolman and radio car on duty until an early hour today at the city hall, high school and other civic administration buildings.

Threats to recall Mayor Hans Roebke, City Manager B. Ray Fritz and City Councilmen Bruce Munro and Charles Broyles, and to storm the city hall and establish a de facto city government grew out of a wild demonstration in which 13,000 school children and adults participated.

10,000 at Meeting

Officials estimated 10,000 Alameda voters attended a mass meeting at the high school grounds last night, vociferously acclaiming resolutions that the four city officials be "run out of office."

Three thousand elementary and high school students, meantime attended a bonfire rally in the west end of town. Municipal officials were burned in effigy.

The meetings and general amplification of public indignation followed walkout of an estimated 3,500 students from an elementary school classes in protest to Paden's ouster by a reorganized board of education which appointed Einar Sorenson, Stanford and University of California alumnus, to succeed the veteran educator.

The Alameda council of the Parent-Teachers' association demanded that the county grand jury investigate Paden's removal and the city's political situation in general.

Principal opposition to city officials developed among members of the Alameda Voters' League, long-standing opponents of Roebke, the Dads' club and the Parent-Teachers' association.

Intensity of the movement was evidenced at last night's mass meeting when Don Morgan, high school student body president credited with organizing the student walkout, was given a standing ovation as he took charge of the adults' meeting.

YOUTH ARRESTED FOR BICYCLE THEFT FREED

Albert Whitacker, 15, held by police after he attempted to take a bicycle from Paul Walters, 14, Water-st., was released from the city jail Friday morning and started on his way home by Juvenile Officer Frank Goff.

Whitacker told officers his home was in Charleston, W. Va. Police and juvenile court authorities asked West Virginia authorities to check the youth's history but received no reply.

SEVEN NEW TAX PLANS PROPOSED

Alternatives for Roosevelt's Action Are Proposed

WASHINGTON, March 6—(UP)—A schedule of sharp increases in nuisance and inheritance taxes has been submitted to the house tax subcommittee by the treasury as possible alternatives to President Roosevelt's proposal to increase revenues $620,000,000 by a corporate surplus tax.

The latest alternative schedules submitted by the treasury included the following:

1. An increase of 1/2 cent in the present one cent a gallon gasoline tax to raise $80,000,000.
2. Reimposition of the bank check tax of two cents to raise $47,000,000.
3. A tax on ten per cent of slot machine sales to raise (unofficial estimate) $50,000,000.
4. A special unearned income surtax estimated to raise: 1937 fiscal year $283,200,000; 1938 $472,000,000.
5. Elimination of present corporation dividend exemption from the normal individual income tax to raise: 1937, $54,000,000; 1938, $90,000,000.
6. Abolition of the present $40,000 exemption from estate taxes under the "tax the rich" act to raise: 1937, $31,000,000; 1938, $53,100,000.
7. Imposition of present individual income tax rates on small inheritances and gifts with a credit of $40,000 to raise: 1937, $325,000,000.

TO PAINT MOSQUITOES

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 6—(UP)—Chicago mosquitoes are going to be red, blue, yellow, green and orange this summer. J. Lyell Clarke, sanitary engineer of the Des Plaines valley mosquito abatement district, explained to fellow mosquito chasers in convention that he hopes to paint 1,000,000 mosquitoes this year, using a big spray gun. By trapping them next autumn he will be able to tell whether Cicero and Oak Park are raising their own mosquitoes, importing them from South Chicago, or vice versa.

SERVICES OVER WIRE

ELGIN, Ill., March 6—(UP)—The family of Helen Schultz, 22, listened to her funeral services by wire. Doctors feared the parents, sister and two brothers were infected with scarlet fever which caused Helen's death. They barred them from the church. Friends installed an amplifier in the church and wired it to the family car, where the Schultzes listened to services through radio headphones.

QUARANTINE NOT ENOUGH

MANSFIELD, March 6—(UP) A mere quarantine on a hospital for meningitis was not enough to stop a proud father from seeing his wife and new-born baby. The father, whose name was not revealed, waded through mud on the hospital grounds, climbed two stories up a drain pipe to the window of his wife's room, and watching for several minutes. After exchanging signs with his wife, he climbed down, happy.

OPEN LETTERS

SCHOOLS OFFICIALS, PUPILS

EDUCATORS, EDUCATED: The 15 pupils who did so well in the American Legion's essay contest deserve much praise, and their teachers likewise should receive votes of appreciation for the work they did to make success possible. An essay requires time, care, patience, and ability, and it seems certain all were applied to make the showing of the Circleville and Pickaway-co writers who were rated high in the district. It would be a grand thing for all who participated if a boy or girl from this community should win one of the state prizes, and receive a trip to Washington, D. C. Twelve places, six for boys and six for girls, are available.

TO CITY, COUNTY RESIDENTS

FRIENDS: Good citizens obey traffic regulations regardless of whether or not a police officer is nearby. During the last week officers have issued a number of traffic tags to autoists and truck drivers who have double parked, causing traffic hazards, blocking alleys and crowding fire hydrants. On their first visit to the mayor they have received a set of traffic rules, a lecture and a warning not to return. Autoists should wholeheartedly obey traffic regulations and making driving and walking in the city the safest possible. Why not stop these practices before officials are forced to use the teeth in the laws.

TO CIRCLEVILLE CHILDREN

YOUNGSTERS: The season has opened for marble games, kite flying and roller skating. All of these pastimes have their dangers. Hold your marble games on vacant lots, or other places where you are free from auto traffic. Do your kite flying in fields or on vacant lots, and if your kite tangles with wires do not attempt to climb a pole and free it; the wires may be high tension lines. Be careful when crossing alleys and street intersections while skating. Stay away from the streets for your fun, and there will be no serious accidents.

TO WPA OFFICIALS

GENTLEMEN: It is pleasing to see you speeding work on the Court-st repaving project, and I hope the sandpits you have placed at the intersections will soon be moved. I suggest you move into the downtown area at some other time than Saturday when a large crowd is expected, and speed the work as swiftly as possible. Removal of rails causes a dangerous condition in the streets, and merchants have a right to complain when the district is torn up on Saturday, their busiest day.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

DEAR MEMBERS: Services in your church last Sunday in observance of the church being free from debt is something of which you should be proud. Freeing itself from debt is not an easy thing for any church to accomplish. I congratulate you on this attainment.

C. A. C. BOXING OFFICIALS

CITIZENS: You are to be congratulated for the fine matches presented at the opening session of your county tournament. The boys put on good, clean bouts, and this type of well-supervised boxing teaches good sportsmanship and self-confidence. Boxing along the lines you are encouraging will do much toward reviving the sport in this city. The fine card you have lined up for the finals in the tournament should bring you an immense crowd.

TO COUNTY AUTOISTS

DEAR FOLK: Warm weather will send thousands of motorists to the open roads over the week-end. Before starting your spring driving have your auto thoroughly checked. See that your brakes, tires and motor are in good condition. Firemen were called to a blaze this week started by a hose breaking and throwing a liquid on the hot motor. After having your car properly examined for defects that may result from the severe weather driving, check the traffic rules and resolve to take no unnecessary chances that endanger lives and cause traffic mishaps.

TO PICKAWAY-CO SPORTSMEN

FRIENDS: Congratulations for the splendid banquet and program presented at the Elks home. The Pickaway-co Farmer's and Sportsman's association is to be praised for the extensive work it has done in improving fishing and hunting conditions in this district. Every county sportsman should cooperate with this organization in carrying out its extensive program arranged for 1938.

CHAPTER 30

IF ALEC BABBAS was surprised to find the housekeeper at the table, he gave no evidence of it whatever—other than to acknowledge her presence with a slight nod of his smooth head when his chair was shown him. Thora noticed that he did not fear Wilma, as Gordon had done with the easy grace that seemed a part of everything he did.

The meal was eaten in a somewhat strained atmosphere. Wilma did her best to carry on a sprightly conversation with the guest, but most of his replies were in monosyllables. Mr. Marsh may have approved of the lack of gallantry on the part of Mr. Babbas, for he made several half-hearted attempts to draw the younger man into talk. Babbas was civil and deferential, but uncommunicative. Thora decided that he still was under the influence of his first meeting with his host and was hiding his time.

He would be more at ease when he found himself alone with Wilma. It also developed that Sherman Gordon was expected later, to be introduced to the guest. Thora wondered what he would think of Mr. Babbas. From what Mr. Gordon had said to her, she knew that he was expected to help show the visitor a good time. It would be hard to imagine two young men more unlike in manner.

Thora was given a vivid reminder of that a few days later. Sherman made one of his informal appearances at Fair Acres late in the afternoon, on his way home from "work" as he told Thora. He was learning that the family and its guest were absent, he inquired in his usual bluff fashion where they were.

"They are dining with Mrs. Steele," Thora told him. "They left just a few moments ago."

"So?" Sherman helped himself to a ball chair, stretched his long legs out comfortably and prepared to talk. "Mrs. Steele's great for her clubby foursomes. She's gone for all Babba in a big way. What do you think of the little guy?"

"I've scarcely seen him," Thora evaded. "Yeah?" Gordon regarded her speculatively. "Queer sort of a shrimp, altogether different than I fancied. I'll give him credit for one thing. He doesn't blow about himself much, doesn't have a great deal to say about anything. But, when he does talk, he knows what it's all about. Sure of himself, and all that sort of thing."

"Is he?" Thora had a feeling that she should not discuss the matter of a guest, but she found herself interested in hearing Mr. Gordon's opinion. Mr. Babbas' attitude towards her had been quite irreproachable since their first meeting.

"Factually," Sherman observed reflectively, "I couldn't fathom his nationality at all. So I asked Wilma. She says his family is Scotch, Aberdeen, I believe. He looks the part, but that name doesn't click with the However, the Scotch are a queer race. I wouldn't put a name like his past them." He grinned amiably. "What do you think?"

"I really don't know."

"He's a good judge of Scotch," Gordon admitted. "I introduced him to a quart of the old gentleman's private stock the other afternoon and he upheld the honor of his country beautifully. I looked him over pretty critically. . . . For Wilma's sake, . . . and I find only one bad count against him. I'm suspicious."

"As bad as that?" Thora laughed merrily at Gordon's downcast expression.

"Fact. He let on he was quite keen for riding at first. Then he began backing up when I offered him a mount. . . . didn't have his riding things, and all that. I came over here just now to put him to the acid test. I'm going to set him astride a horse tomorrow. If I have to throw him on, I'll let him try Ellen. . . . Now that you've discarded her."

Thora found herself enjoying the situation.

The color in Thora's cheeks heightened a trifle.

"She should suit Mr. Babbas very well," was her reply.

"Well, see," Gordon suddenly pulled himself erect and slapped his thigh with his open palm. "By Jove! I've thought of something. Miss Dahl."

"What is that?"

"Why, I just remembered that the folks are dining over at the club tonight. I wasn't invited to Mrs. Dahl's. Neither were you. I'll tell you what we'll do. I'll stay to dinner, keep you company." He seemed vastly pleased at this inspiration.

"Oh . . ." Thora gave a little gasp of astonishment.

"That's all right," Sherman assured her. "I often invite myself to meals here. You needn't go to any dinner at all. Whatever you have is good enough for me. He got to his feet as if the matter were settled.

"But," the housekeeper expostulated in confusion.

"You're worried about the conventions, I suppose. I'll attend to them in short order. I'm going out to see Katie to put on another play. That frees you of any responsibility. I happen to know that the odds are against me. He grinned boyishly. "And what's more, I'll report this to Wilma. . . . tell her how I forced my company on you, in spite of your duties. She won't mind too busy to bother her head about either of us."

He proceeded to relieve Thora of any decision by disappearing in the direction of the kitchen, humming as he went. Rather panic-stricken at this turn of events, she followed, in time to hear Katie Donahue's shrill cry.

"You and you can stay, Mr. Sherman. I'll be fine for Miss Thora to be having good company like your own."

"Later, as the two of them sat at the big table—Sherman had insisted upon moving his place close to the evening—Thora found herself enjoying the situation unreservedly. Her first self-consciousness passed quickly under the influence of Gordon's bantering talk.

It was pleasant. The Marshes never had given her reason to feel that her presence at their table was an intrusion, but Thora had erected a barrier for herself. After all, she was being paid to be there. That marked a place whose bounds her dignity never allowed her to overstep for an instant.

But tonight she was different. She was only human. She liked friends and she had been so cut off from her share of them. The experience of occupying a subservient position was something new and strange. . . . unless one took Hi-Minar Dahl into account. It was good to be sitting here, chatting familiarly with this wholesome, courteous man. All of his engaging conversation was for her benefit. She might have been the guest, he the genial host.

Everyone else, unless it were Selwyn Marsh, had evidenced a curiosity about her past. Mr. Gordon had, too. But it was impossible to resent that now. He had more than atoned by accepting her as an equal. There was no questioning his friendly attitude.

"I'm brimming over with good ideas tonight," he remarked smilingly, as he pushed aside his finished dessert and lighted a cigaret. "Every try your hand at playing polo?"

"Of course not," Thora laughed. "You should. The women around here have taken it so seriously. I was thinking about it the other day when we had our ride. You have a good seat. And I know your wrists are fair, or you wouldn't have put Ginger in his place. That's about all the game needs, except a good eye. You'll take to it like a duck to water."

"I don't have time to play," Thora smiled at his growing enthusiasm, even as she felt a slight dismay at its possible consequences.

"Rubbish! Listen. . . . I've got an old pony that knows the game better than most of us dubs. I'll bring him over tomorrow, and a couple of mallets. You put on your tops and meet me. . . . say about 6. I know you don't mind getting up early. We'll go out in the lot back of the stables and I'll give you a lesson."

"Oh, I don't believe . . ."

"Oh, yes, you do! I'll be there waiting. Your conscience won't let you sleep when you know that it's settled." He pushed back his chair. "Let's go and find some comfortable seats."

West led the 3 of Clubs, and North took it with the King. East followed with the 2 of Clubs, and South took it with the Queen. West then led the 4 of Clubs, and North took it with the King. East followed with the 3 of Clubs, and South took it with the Queen.

North led back a spade. That was the tenth trick and the balance of tricks belonged to declarer's two trumps and A-Q of hearts, giving her a small slam doubled when vulnerable, netting for that last hand 1,700 points.

It would have been foolhardy for West to have redoubled, but she joked North about what a stroke would have resulted, but both North and South stated that a redouble would have caused the hand to be played at 6-Spades, at a cost of only 500 points.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By— Charles P. Stewart

Legislation to regulate (rather than prevent) lobbying in Washington now seems reasonably certain before congress adjourns.

The generally accepted plan is to require each lobbying organization or individual lobbyist to register as such and make quarterly reports detailing all of its or his activities, contacts and cash transactions from date to date.

The program may be praiseworthy, but can it be made to work?

The great difficulty is to find a definition: Who is and who is not a lobbyist?

ONLY ONE THAT'S FRANK There is just one lobby in the national capital which frankly proclaims that a lobby is what it is. This is the People's Lobby—officially its name.

Conservatives consider it a radical outfit, but it does not need much regulating. It does try to influence lawmaking, but not by financial expenditures. It has slightly little money to spend. It undoubtedly would welcome an opportunity to have its reports printed, as good advertising.

Like the United States Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers, the American Federation of Labor, and the United States being designated as lobbies, but they certainly would so classify.

LAWYER-LOBBYISTS However, a lawyer?—retained to represent some big client's supposedly purely legal interests on Capitol Hill, among the departments or at the White House.

Is he a lobbyist? Washington's office buildings are full of these individuals.

Most of them are ex-office holders. They have included former vice presidents, some former cabinet members, a scattering of former senators, many former representatives.

They are lawyers. It is as lawyers that they are engaged.

But of course they have a valuable acquaintanceship among politicians. Are they hired to pull political strings or for their services in court? I do not see how they can be held accountable for anything except their income tax returns.

"FIXING" IN DEPARTMENTS Moreover, the supposition is that a lobbyist's business is exclusively to shape legislation.

In fact, to influence lawmaking is a small part of his job.

His principal business is to see that a law having been passed, it is departmentally interpreted in his client's favor. More "fixing" is done, on the "g. t.," in the departments, between sessions of congress, than ever is done on the "hill," with the legislators doing business. But it is not referred to as lobbying; it is known as legitimate law practice.

PUBLICITY "ADVISERS" Then there are the publicity advisers.

A lobbying publicity adviser is expected to report each "story" he gets into print on his favorite subject.

Now, how can he?

As one lone Washington correspondent, I get a dozen or so of mimeographed pieces of publicity in my morning's mail every day. I find a percentage of usable stuff in it, but I cannot tell "which is which" when I do utilize it. How, then, can the individual publicity agent identify his particular story?

"ENTERTAINMENT" Finally, the lobbyist is expected to list what he spends on entertainment.

The term, obviously, is too loose to mean anything.

I've had two bits or so spent on my entertainment in the last few minutes—and have spent them back again.

Keeping books on such a record is impossible.

responsible pilots, an extremely elaborate set of tests is made, putting them in a revolving chair and spinning them in different positions of the head. It is generally recognized that accidents during stunt flying are due to something that has gone wrong with the pilot. Usually this is a momentary loss of faculties. One man went into a tail spin, which produced such overpowering dizziness that, not knowing what he was doing or why, he grabbed the "joy stick" and pushed it over and threw himself into another tail spin in the opposite direction. Before he could come out of this he crashed.

Flyers who have been tested in the chairs report somewhat as follows: "That is exactly like coming out of a spinning nose dive." When placed in another position they will say: "Now I feel like coming out of a loop."

Ordinary Test Very Simple For the pilot who is not going to undertake such responsibilities, however, the test is quite simple. The shoes and stockings are removed and the applicant stands on one foot, the other knee flexed at right angles, the eyes closed, and a hand resting on the flexed knee. He should be able to remain steady for 15 seconds. Three trials are given for each foot.

There are three planes of vertigo. One corresponds to the barbed on your hat. In other words, it goes around your head about level with the top of your ears. Another one is frontal and could be represented by a ring into which you could thrust your face, going under the chin and over the forehead just in front of the ears. The third is from before backwards, and could be represented by a circle around your head drawn in profile. These correspond to various whirling that the semi-circular canals have to compensate for in stunt flying. For instance, the last one, the so-called "sagittal plane" vertigo, is the one that is concerned in looping.

OPEN LETTERS

SCHOOLS OFFICIALS, PUPILS
EDUCATORS, EDUCATED: The 15 pupils who did so well in the American Legion's essay contest deserve much praise, and their teachers likewise should receive votes of appreciation for the work they did to make success possible. An essay requires time, care, patience, and ability, and it seems certain all were applied to make the showing of the Circleville and Pickaway-co writers who were rated high in the district. It would be a grand thing for all who participated if a boy or girl from this community should win one of the state prizes, and receive a trip to Washington, D. C. Twelve places, six for boys and six for girls, are available.

TO CITY, COUNTY RESIDENTS
FRIENDS: Good citizens obey traffic regulations regardless of whether or not a police officer is nearby. During the last week officers have issued a number of traffic tags to autoists and truck drivers who have double parked, causing traffic hazards, blocking alleys and crowding fire hydrants. On their first visit to the mayor they have received a set of traffic rules, a lecture and a warning not to return. Autoists should wholeheartedly obey traffic regulations and making driving and walking in the city the safest possible. Why not stop these practices before officials are forced to use the teeth in the laws.

TO CIRCLEVILLE CHILDREN
YOUNGSTERS: The season has opened for marble games, kite flying and roller skating. All of these pastimes have their dangers. Hold your marble games on vacant lots, or other places where you are free from auto traffic. Do your kite flying in fields or on vacant lots, and if your kite tangles with wires do not attempt to climb a pole and free it; the wires may be high tension lines. Be careful when crossing alleys and street intersections while skating. Stay away from the streets for your fun, and there will be no serious accidents.

TO WPA OFFICIALS
GENTLEMEN: It is pleasing to see you speeding work on the Court-st repaving project, and I hope the sandpits you have placed at the intersections will soon be moved. I suggest you move into the downtown area at some other time than Saturday when a large crowd is expected, and speed the work as swiftly as possible. Removal of rails causes a dangerous condition in the streets, and merchants have a right to complain when the district is torn up on Saturday, their busiest day.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH
DEAR MEMBERS: Services in your church last Sunday in observance of the church being free from debt is something of which you should be proud. Freeing itself from debt is not an easy thing for any church to accomplish. I congratulate you on this attainment.

C. A. C. BOXING OFFICIALS
CITIZENS: You are to be congratulated for the fine matches presented at the opening session of your county tournament. The boys put on good, clean bouts, and this type of well-supervised boxing teaches good sportsmanship and self-confidence. Boxing along the lines you are encouraging will do much toward reviving the sport in this city. The fine card you have lined up for the finals in the tournament should bring you an immense crowd.

TO COUNTY AUTOISTS
DEAR FOLK: Warm weather will send thousands of motorists to the open roads over the week-end. Before starting your spring driving have your auto thoroughly checked. See that your brakes, tires and motor are in good condition. Firemen were called to a blaze this week started by a hose breaking and throwing a liquid on the hot motor. After having your car properly examined for defects that may result from the severe weather driving, check the traffic rules and resolve to take no unnecessary chances that endanger lives and cause traffic mishaps.

TO PICKAWAY-CO SPORTSMEN
FRIENDS: Congratulations for the splendid banquet and program presented at the Elks home. The Pickaway-co Farmer's and Sportsman's association is to be praised for the extensive work it has done in improving fishing and hunting conditions in this district. Every county sportsman should cooperate with this organization in carrying out its extensive program arranged for 1936.

School-boy temptation overcame Vice President Jack Garner of Texas the other day when he strolled past Senator Sheppard of Texas on the Senate floor. He put his hands in Sheppard's grey hair and ruffled it.

With All My Heart

CHAPTER 30
IF ALEC BABBAS was surprised to find the housekeeper at the table, he gave no evidence of it whatever—other than to acknowledge her presence with a slight nod of his smooth head when his chair was shown him. Thora noticed that he did not seat Wilma, as Gordon had done with the easy grace that seemed a part of everything he did. The meal was eaten in a somewhat strained atmosphere. Wilma did her best to carry on a sprightly conversation with the guest, but most of his replies were in monosyllables. Mr. Marsh may have approved of the lack of garrulity on the part of Mr. Babbas, for he made several half-hearted attempts to draw the younger man into talk. Babbas was civil and deferential, but uncommunicative. Thora decided that he still was under the influence of his first meeting with his host and was biding his time. He would be more at ease when he found himself alone with Wilma. It also developed that Sherman Gordon was expected later, to be introduced to the guest. Thora wondered what he would think of Mr. Babbas. From what Mr. Gordon had said to her, she knew that he was expected to help show the visitor a good time. It would be hard to imagine two young men more unlike in manner. Thora was given a vivid reminder of that a few days later. Sherman made one of his informal appearances at Fair Acres late in the afternoon, on his way home from "work" as he told Thora playfully. Learning that the family and its guests were absent, he inquired in his usual blunt fashion where they were. "They are dining with Mrs. Steele," Thora told him. "They left just a few moments ago." "So?" Sherman helped himself to a hall chair, stretched his long legs out comfortably and prepared to talk. "Mrs. Dorothy's great for her chubby foursores. She's gone for Ali Babba in a big way. What do you think of the little guy?" "I've scarcely seen him," Thora evaded. "Yeah?" Gordon regarded her speculatively. "Queer sort of chap, altogether different than I fancied. He'll give him credit for one thing. He doesn't blow about himself much, doesn't have a great deal to say about anything. But when he does talk . . . he knows what it's all about. Sure of himself, and all that sort of thing." "Is he?" Thora had a feeling that she should not discuss the matter of a guest, but she found herself interested in hearing Mr. Gordon's opinion. Mr. Babbas' attitude towards her had been quite irreproachable since their first meeting. "Funny thing," Sherman observed reflectively. "I couldn't do his nationality at all. So I asked Wilma. She says his name is Scotch, Aberdeen. I believe. He looks the part, but that name doesn't click with the However, the Scotch are a queer race. I wouldn't put a name like his past them." He grinned amiably. "What do you think?" "I really don't know." "He's a good fellow," Scotch," Gordon admitted. "I introduced him to a quart of the old gentleman's private stock the other afternoon and he upheld the honor of his country beautifully. I've looked him over pretty critically . . . for Wilma's sake . . . and I find only one bad count against him. I'm suspicious he doesn't like horses." Thora laughed merrily at Gordon's downcast expression. "Fact. He let on he was quite keen for riding at first. Then he began backing up, when I offered him a mount . . . didn't have his riding things, and all that. I came over here just now to put him to the acid test. I'm going to set him astride a horse tomorrow. If I have to throw him on. I'll let him try Ellen. He now that you've discarded her." The color in Thora's cheeks heightened a trifle. "She should suit Mr. Babbas very well," she was ready to reply. "We'll see," Gordon suddenly pulled himself erect and slapped his leg with his open palm. "By Jove! I've thought of something. Miss Dahl!" "What is that?" "Why, I just remembered that the folks are dining over at the club tonight! I wasn't invited to Mrs. Gordon's. Neither were you. I'll tell you what we'll do. I'll stay to dinner . . . keep you company." He seemed vastly pleased at this inspiration. "Oh . . ." Thora gave a little gasp of astonishment. "That's all right," Sherman assured her. "I often invite myself to meals here. You needn't go to any bother at all. Whatever you have is good enough for me." He got to his feet as if the matter were settled. "But . . ." the housekeeper expostulated in confusion. "You're worried about the conversation, I suppose. I'll attend to them in short order. I'm going out and tell Katie to put on another plate. That frees you of any responsibility. I happen to know that the odds are discreet," he grinned broadly. "And what's more, I'll report this to Wilma . . . tell her how I forced my company on you, in spite of your entreaties. She won't mind too busy to bother her head about either of us." He proceeded to relieve Thora of any decision by disappearing in the direction of the kitchen, humming as he went. Rather panic-stricken at this turn of events, she followed, in time to hear Katie Donahue's shrill cry: "Sure and you can stay, Mr. Sherman. I'll be fine for Miss Thora to be havin' good company like your own. Later, as the two of them sat at the big table—Sherman had insisted upon moving his place close to the one occupied by his hostess of the evening—Thora found herself enjoying the situation unreservedly. Her first self-consciousness passed quickly under the influence of Gordon's bantering talk. It was pleasant. The Marshes never had given her reason to feel that her presence at their table was

Air Pilot Needs More Than Normal Vision
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
THE PILOT of an airplane must be able to gauge the position in which his body is most accurately. To do this he must have a good internal ear and a good cerebellum. Our sense of equilibrium is based upon the three little semi-circular canals set at different levels in the internal ear. They are filled with a fluid which moves slowly on change of position. For army flyers and highly responsible pilots, an extremely elaborate set of tests is made, putting them in a revolving chair and spinning them in different positions of the head. It is generally recognized that accidents during stunt flying are due to something that has gone wrong with the pilot. Usually this is a momentary loss of faculties. 8 2
Bidding went: West, 2-Clubs; North, 2-Spades; East, 3-Clubs; South, 3-Spades; West, 6-Clubs; North, doubled. Mrs. Harrison, sitting West, had correctly counted upon her partner's voluntary support as showing possession of the Ace of clubs. She calculated that there were better than even chances for East to hold either or both red Kings, and in case East held neither of them the odds were 3 to 1 against both of them being held by North. What West admitted afterwards she had not taken into consideration were the difficulties of entering dummy often enough to take the necessary thrusts in both hearts and diamonds. The opening lead was the Ace of spades. Declarer took care to ruff with the 9 also to lead the K of clubs for her second trick and to overtake her Q of clubs with dummy's Ace for the third trick. She had to preserve the 3 in her hand for future entry to dummy. The 7 of diamonds was led. Declarer 10 held the trick, but that did not mean certainly that North might not hold the missing K, to spring it next time and ruin things. The 3 of clubs was led and overtaken with dummy's 6. Another diamond was led and the J held. Declarer then led the Ace of diamonds taking out dummy's last diamond. Of course West now could have led off the Ace of hearts, then given the defenders a heart trick with the K, regardless of which defender held that missing honor, but there was a very slight chance that there might be a grand slam in the hand, provided dummy led the hearts. The Q of diamonds was ruffed with dummy's last club, and a heart was led through South. West lost the finesse of her J, but she had the satisfaction of noting that had South held the K-X, instead of the X-X, that a grand slam would have been made. North led the tenth trick and the balance of tricks belonged to declarer's two trumps and A-Q of hearts, giving her a small slam doubled when vulnerable, netting for that last hand 1,700 points. It would have been foolhardy for West to have redoubled, but she joked North about what a score would have resulted, but both North and South stated that a redouble would have caused the hand to be played at 6-Spades, at a cost of only 500 points.

Two Bridge Parties Entertained Thursday

Mrs. Nickerson and Mrs. King Are Hostesses

Mrs. Glenn I. Nickerson, S. Court-st., entertained a group of Ashville friends at bridge at her home Thursday afternoon. Seventeen guests were invited for the card game in progress at four tables. Attractive trophies were awarded the winners, Mrs. Clarence Hott, Mrs. J. R. Hedges, and Mrs. Paul Cromley. A salad course was served by the hostess bringing the delightful afternoon to a close. Guests included Mrs. C. J. Rocky, Mrs. William Cromley, Mrs. Harry Speakman, Mrs. Hedges, Mrs. R. S. Hosler, Mrs. Cromley, Mrs. Seymour Miller, Mrs. Alva Courtwright, Mrs. Agnes Riegel, Mrs. Ed Runkle, Mrs. Arthur Hines, Miss Fannie Hook, Mrs. Bruce Davidson, Ashville; Mrs. Hott, Mrs. George Marion, Mrs. Floyd Hook, and Mrs. Stanley Glick.

Mrs. Orion King was hostess at a delightful evening bridge Thursday at her home on W. High-st. Guests were members of her club and several additional friends.

Cards were enjoyed at five tables and with the awarding of the club prize to Mrs. George P. Foreman high score guest favor was presented Miss Helen Yates, and the traveling prize to Mrs. Glenn I. Nickerson.

A salad course was served late in the evening at the small tables. Enjoying the lovely party were Mrs. Adrian Yates, Miss Yates, Mrs. Hervey Sweyer, Mrs. G. L. Schlar, Miss Irene Parrett, Miss Emily Yates, Mrs. B. T. Hedges, Mrs. R. F. Lilly, Mrs. Rebecca Orr, Mrs. Charles Mason, Mrs. W. L. Mack, Mrs. Frank Lynch, Mrs. Floyd Hook, Mrs. Brunelle P. Guildcrafters Meet
The Circleville Senior and Junior chapters of the National Guildcrafters and guests attended the first of the regular monthly meetings in the trustees' room of the library Thursday evening.

Karl S. Bolander, who is the art director and lecturer for the guildcrafters, was the speaker at the meeting. He gave an educational motion picture talk on colored views of the World's fair.

Mr. Bolander took these pictures himself while attending and studying the fair at Chicago in 1933 and 1934. He showed 800 feet of pictures which had gorgeous colors, just as they appeared at the fair. These displayed architecture, lighting, exhibits, nationalities, costumes, modes of travel and amusement.

Mr. Bolander's review of the fair was outstanding in his portrayal of the beauty and artistic qualities which existed there. The lecture was entertaining as well as educational. After the lecture an opportunity was given those attending to ask

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Huston, N. Court-st., had as their guests Thursday and Friday Mrs. Huston's mother and nephew, Mrs.

LIBRARY OBTAINS TWO NEW BOOKS ABOUT GARDENS

The first signs of spring at the Circleville library are calls for information on pruning, plans for bird houses, and the year's most active interest in garden books.

Just now, the library has two new books that will help readers to bide their time until their gardens wake up, and which, as permanent additions to the garden collection, hold much enjoyment in store for library patrons.

The two new books have one point in common, they are both chronicles of gardens month by month, otherwise the method of treating the subject is quite different.

"Four Hedges," by Clare Leighton, tells of an English garden, in the Chiltern hills. In an informal manner, Miss Leighton relates the satisfactions and joy derived from working among flowers, birds, trees, fruits, and vegetables. All of these are represented in the fine wood engravings ranging from chapter heads to full-page illustrations, the work of the author, whose artistic reputation had already been established as the illustrator of the books of other writers.

"The Garden Month by Month," by Mabel Cabot Sedgwick and Robert Cameron, is an American chronicle, first published a number of years ago, and now, in its newest edition, added to the local library. It is described as "the most convenient, practical and systematic reference book on this subject ever compiled. A book of tested trustworthy information well tabulated and indexed. No gossip. Over 200 photographs and a special color chart showing the exact shade of every flower catalogued."

Another rather recent "Flower Book," to be found at the library is an unusual little volume on flower arrangements, direct from Japan, which starts its thrill of surprise and pleasure, with the turning of its cover.

These three books will be on display at the meeting of the Pickaway County Garden Club on Friday evening, March 6th.

C. E. Kramer of Columbus, and Jack Alter of Marion.

Mrs. C. C. Watts, E. Main-st., left Friday for a week-end visit with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Rodrick of Marion.

Mrs. Glenn I. Nickerson, S. Court-st., went to Worthington Friday, where she will spend the week-end with her cousin, Miss Mary Alice Stein.

PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

One cupful lard and butter.
One cupful brown sugar.
One cupful peanut butter.
Two eggs.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One teaspoon vanilla.
Three cupfuls sifted flour.
Two teaspoons soda.
Cream shortening and sugar, add peanut butter and eggs slightly beaten. Next add vanilla and lastly dry ingredients, all sifted together. Shape into roll, chill, then cut and bake at 350 degrees (moderate) for twelve to fifteen minutes.

Frank Baker were named collectors.

A stewardship class was conducted during the morning hours by Mrs. Abbe Gusman and at noon a chicken dinner was served to twenty Otterbein Guild members, as guests, and fifty missionary society members and their guests.

A social hour followed the dinner and at 2 o'clock Mrs. Trimmer opened the business session during which annual reports were heard.

An impressive candlelight memorial service was conducted by the president for the three departed members during the year. Mrs. George Myers, Miss Cora Hampshire, and J. J. Brehmer, an honorary member. Mrs. Ralph Long gave a prayer of remembrance.

Mrs. E. S. Neuding was in charge of the program on "Forward with Christ" which followed. After a devotional service Mrs. Iley Green sang "My Task" and a playlet, "Starting the Year" was presented by the officers concluding the entertainment. Taking part were Mrs. Trimmer, Mrs. Neuding, Mrs. Harold Conrad, Mrs. Bertha Walker, Mrs. Ida Hussey, Mrs. Gusman, and Miss Woolever.

Election of officers closed the session.

Daughter Honored

Mrs. John Eshelman, Northridge-rd., arranged a delightful birthday party at her home Thursday afternoon for the pleasure of her daughter, Nancy, on her fourth anniversary. Yesterday was also the first anniversary of Nancy's sister, Sally Ann.

Ten small guests were invited to the affair from 4 to 5:30 o'clock. Games were enjoyed by the group and a prize was awarded Robert Johnson.

Pink was carried out in the table appointments for the refreshments served. The table was centered with a lighted birthday cake and clever place cards were used.

Included in the group with Nancy were Richard Fullen, Robert Johnson, Barbara and Beverly Huston, Danny Musser, Eddie Rowland, Bobbie Phillips, Frances Groom, James I. Smith Jr., and Jack Alter of Marion.

Frank Lynch, S. Court-st., will return Saturday from Atlanta, Ga. where he has been attending the National convention of the Coca Cola dealers this last week.

Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Sherburne

Rev. and Mrs. L. C. Sherburne, Rev. and Mrs. Herman A. Sayre, and Rev. T. C. Harper were among local persons who heard Toyohiko Kagawa, a Japanese, at the statewide conference in Columbus Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Huston, N. Court-st., had as their guests Thursday and Friday Mrs. Huston's mother and nephew, Mrs.

LIBRARY OBTAINS TWO NEW BOOKS ABOUT GARDENS

The first signs of spring at the Circleville library are calls for information on pruning, plans for bird houses, and the year's most active interest in garden books.

Just now, the library has two new books that will help readers to bide their time until their gardens wake up, and which, as permanent additions to the garden collection, hold much enjoyment in store for library patrons.

The two new books have one point in common, they are both chronicles of gardens month by month, otherwise the method of treating the subject is quite different.

"Four Hedges," by Clare Leighton, tells of an English garden, in the Chiltern hills. In an informal manner, Miss Leighton relates the satisfactions and joy derived from working among flowers, birds, trees, fruits, and vegetables. All of these are represented in the fine wood engravings ranging from chapter heads to full-page illustrations, the work of the author, whose artistic reputation had already been established as the illustrator of the books of other writers.

"The Garden Month by Month," by Mabel Cabot Sedgwick and Robert Cameron, is an American chronicle, first published a number of years ago, and now, in its newest edition, added to the local library. It is described as "the most convenient, practical and systematic reference book on this subject ever compiled. A book of tested trustworthy information well tabulated and indexed. No gossip. Over 200 photographs and a special color chart showing the exact shade of every flower catalogued."

Another rather recent "Flower Book," to be found at the library is an unusual little volume on flower arrangements, direct from Japan, which starts its thrill of surprise and pleasure with the turning of its cover.

These three books will be on display at the meeting of the Pickaway County Garden Club on Friday evening, March 6th.

C. E. Kramer of Columbus, and Jack Alter of Marion.

Mrs. C. C. Watts, E. Main-st., left Friday for a week-end visit with her mother, Mrs. E. W. Roderrick of Marion.

Mrs. Glenn I. Nickerson, S. Scioto-st., went to Worthington Friday, where she will spend the week-end with her cousin, Miss Mary Alice Stein.

on Olson's Hour; Baker, Green Successful

Beery to Be Featured Saturday Evening on Celebrity Hour; Young Singer Makes Good

Beery, famed movie actor of the Celebrity Night network on Saturday, March 7, at 10:30 p. m.

The program features the music of Miss Shutta.

During the broadcast Beery will be part in a family debate with Olson and Miss Shutta (Mrs. Olson).

Beery will brag about his young daughter and the Olsons about their two children. Beery will also be heard in a dramatic scene.

Born in Kansas City, Beery was sent to school and given piano lessons, both of which he detested. It was only after he had run away from home and returned that his parents allowed him to leave school and take a job as a wiper in a railroad round house.

He left that position to become an elephant trainer in the circus for which his brother, William, was press agent.

His next steps were into a chorus job in New York and on to stardom in "The Ziegfeld Girl." While touring, he was offered a job at the old Broadway Studios in Chicago, his first role being that of a Swedish servant girl.

He moved to California with the infant film industry and played in such well-known silent films as "The Four Horsemen," "The Three Musketeers," "Robin Hood" and "Old Ironsides." Since the advent of talking pictures he has been featured in many successful films.

Kenny Baker has made good on his first radio series. The timid tenor from California, who sings and stooges for Jack Benny on the program heard over an NBC-WJZ network on Sundays at 7:00 p. m., ST, has just been signed up for a long term contract. And so has Benny Green, the composer-pianist who conducts the orchestra on the Benny program.

Virtually an unknown before he appeared as guest singing-stooge in the Benny program late in 1935, Kenny has become one of radio's favorite tenors. Last summer he was California winner in Giddy Duchin's nationwide radio singing contest.

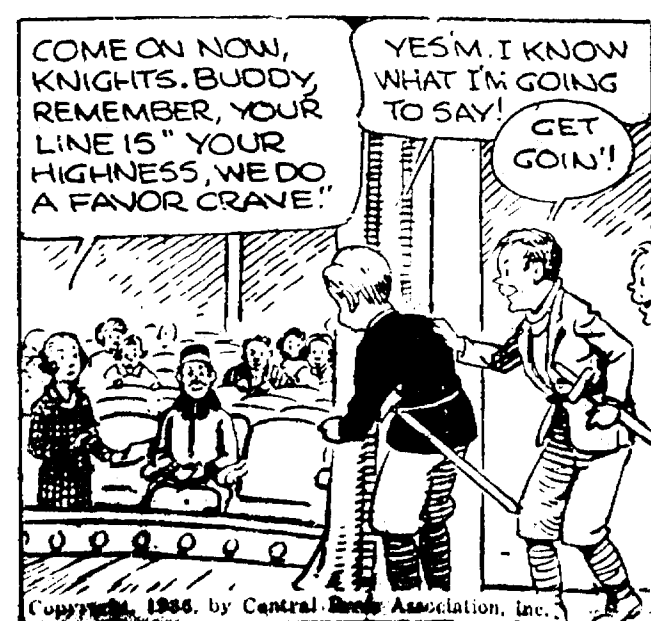

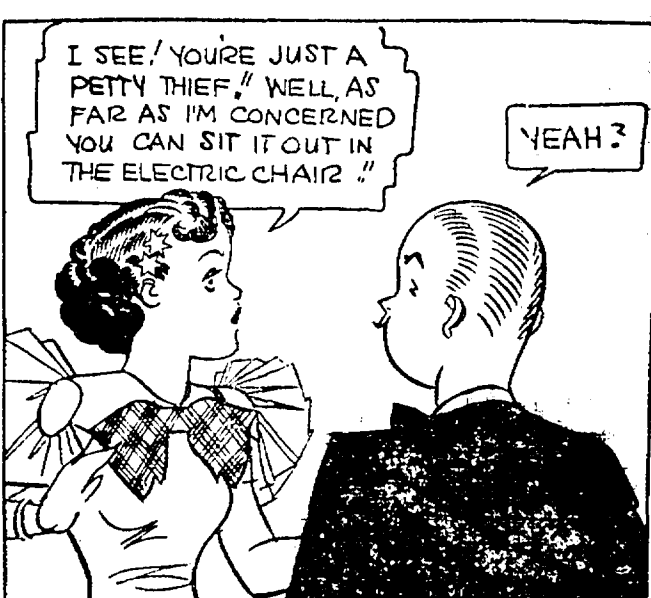

Shortly before coming East with the Benny troupe, young Baker made a creditable screen debut in "King of Burlesque," under personal contract to screen Leroy, well-known director and producer, and is on temporary leave of absence from Hollywood to broadcast Sundays with Benny.

John Green, who has acquired international fame through his three-fold musical talent, made his initial appearance this season as an assistant comedian. During his appearances with Benny he has not neglected composing and has already penned two hit numbers this year—"The Night Is Beginning" and "Joan of Arkansas." Johnny has won highly favorable comment for his work on the program as an actor. His forte is dialect-stooging.

Virtually an unknown before he appeared as guest singing-stooze on the Benny program late in 1935, Kenny has become one of 1935's favorite tenors. Last summer he was California winner in Eddy Duchin's nationwide radio auditions contest.

Shortly before coming East with the Benny troupe, young Baker made a creditable screen debut in "King of Burlesque." He is under personal contract to Mervyn Leroy, well-known director and producer, and is on temporary leave of absence from Hollywood to broadcast Sundays with Benny.

John Green, who has acquired international fame through his three-fold musical talent, made his initial appearance this season as an assistant comedian. During his appearances with Benny he has not neglected composing and has already penned two hit numbers this year—"The Night Is Beginning" and "Joan of Arkansas." Johnny has won highly favorable comment for his work on the program as an actor. His forte is dialect-stoozing.

NOTES—A questionnaire circulated among New York school children proves that youngsters spend more time listening to air programs than reading books.

WATERLOO WONDERS INVADE C. A. C. GYM TONIGHT

GAME FEATURES COURT SEASON; LOCALS STRONG

Big Crowd Expected to Watch Sensational Lawrence-Co Five in Action

| C. A. C.       | Waterloo |
|----------------|----------|
| Purcell .....  | F .....  |
| Berger .....   | F .....  |
| Terrone .....  | C .....  |
| Merriman ..... | G .....  |
| Trego .....    | G .....  |

There you are, and at about 8:30 o'clock this evening the above cagers will be playing their best in an effort to win a basketball game.

The Wonders, Waterloo's publicized cagers, invade the Athletic court for the feature basketball game of the year. Riding high on their record for the season, the team coached by Magellan Hairston hopes to take the Club cagers in stride, but before they do that will know they have been through a ball game.

Visitors Sensational
The C. A. C. hall is expected to be filled for the game because the Waterloo boys with their sensational passing and shooting attract hundreds wherever they appear. They always play a clean game of basketball, and it is only a rare occasion when the boys who start the game do not finish.

Four of the cagers, the Roberts boys, Beryl Drummond and Curtis McMahon, have played together for a long while. Kaiser, a Marshall college man, is the fifth athlete while Clark, also from Marshall, is the utility player. Hairston, the coach, always accompanies the boys and will attract about as much attention this evening as will his sharpshooters.

Club to be Strong
The C. A. C. crew has high hopes to bump the Wonders but is a decided underdog. The local cagers are in good shape and will put up a battle the whole way. Berger and Terrone are coaches in county schools, Trego is the former Commercial Point-Capital university star, and Purcell and Merriman are C.A.C. veterans. On the sidelines will be Goon Zeimer, Bill Hegele, and Art Walker. Shadel Saunders, expected to play with the club, will not be able to get here from Westerville, where his cagers are playing in the 'B' tournament, in time to don a uniform. Byron Eby, another member of the squad, has been ill and will not play.

A preliminary between the Junior C. A. C. team and some unnamed foe will start at 7:30. Free dancing has been provided after the game for the patrons. A local orchestra will play.

About This And That In Many Sports

Four Quintets Play

Circleville, Ashville, New Holland, and Pickaway-twps were in the midst of basketball tournaments today and this evening, the former team engaging Lancaster at Delaware, and the latter three vying for honors in the class 'B' meet at Westerville—Regardless of how the teams come out in their first round games cage fans are nearly unanimous that the county could not be better represented. The only doubt exists concerning the relative ability of the Pickaway entrant and the Williamsport boys * * *

Anyway everyone back home is hoping for at least a couple of first round victories * * *

Baseball Meeting

A meeting to attempt to organize Circleville, Ashville, New Holland, Mt. Sterling, Grove City, Lithopolis, and Canal Winchester into a baseball league will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the Wilkins restaurant in Ashville. The meeting has been called by Joe Donnelly of the Athletic Supply Co., Columbus—There is considerable interest in several of the towns while the situation here stands at just this: "Where would we play." * * *

Billy Evans to Write

Billy Evans, former American league umpire, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, and now a Boston Red Sox minor league club executive, will soon be writing baseball items for The Herald * * *

A Wise Decision

Decision of Ohio State university to remain out of the Olympic elimination contest is a wise one. The Bucks would probably get bumped early—The reason given is classroom time, and the fact that Captain Warren Whitlinger feels the urge of a little jack and is playing professional basketball—it would seem that the mid-west will be poorly represented with Notre Dame, Purdue, and Indiana, all three standouts teams, remaining out of competition * * *

Tales in Tidbits

AMONG THE hot recruits of the season is a pitcher named Joe Sullivan, trying out with the Senators at Orlando. . . . Joe is one of four Washington boys whose training camp expenses are being defrayed by F. M. Coffey, business man in the capital. . . . the others are Foch Mathias, Bob Mathias and Reggie Brown. . . . it would be just Clark Griffith's luck if all four turned out to be winners. Pedro Montanez, newest of the punching gauchos from Puerto Rico, is the son of a cattle buyer, and his boyhood ambition was to become a torador. . . . Pedro is only a lightweight, but if he grows there's still a chance for him to realize his youthful dream by beating Primo Camera. . . . Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt maintains 80 hungry mouths into which he must pour oats daily. . . . it's the largest racing stable in America. . . . You probably don't remember, but badminton dates back to the thirteenth century in India. . . . they called it poona.

NEED OF STUDY HALTS BUCKEYES

Olson Keeps Team Out of Tourney; McDonald, Thomas Down

COLUMBUS, March 6.—(UP)—Ohio State today had joined Purdue, Indiana and Notre Dame as a sideline observer of the Fifth District Olympic elimination basketball tournament to be held next week at Chicago.

The Bucks, one of the seeded major schools, withdrew late yesterday following a conference between Coach Harold G. Olson and Athletic Director L. W. St. John. Olson announced the withdrawal, scheduled soon after the tournament, necessitated the move. "We are wholeheartedly in sympathy with the tournament and would like to do our bit to make it a success," Olson said. "However, in fairness to the players we've decided to turn down our bid."

While examinations account in part for the withdrawal of Ohio State, there were other reasons back of the move. Jim McDonald, Springfield, sophomore forward and a monogram winner in football, and Earl Thomas, Ashland, varsity center, are reported in bad scholastic standing. It was believed additional absence from the classroom would result in their ineligibility.

Two other members of the starting five, "Tippy" Dye and Jack Radebaugh, are baseball players and tournament competition would bring about an overlap of the two sports.

Captain Warren Whitlinger, Zanesville, announced he had turned professional immediately upon the withdrawal of the Bucks. Whitlinger played with a Coshocton team against the New York Renaissance last night. He scored 18 points as his team was beaten 47 to 39.

TWO SOPHOMORES MAKE U. P. ALL-OHIO QUINTET

COLUMBUS, March 6.—(UP)—Five athletes who stood out among an exceptionally large group of stars produced during a well balanced league race today were rewarded with places on the United Press' annual All-Ohio conference basketball team.

Coaches and newspapermen who co-operated in the selection of the team were unanimous in the belief the conference this season produced more individual brilliants than it had for many years. As a result the balloting for every position was close.

Two sophomores who were literally balls of fire throughout the campaign were given the forward positions. They were Jim Whiting of the championship Marietta quintet, and Nick Frascella, Wooster.

Sam Loucks, the rugged Otterbein pivotman, gained the center position. Loucks won the post by a narrow margin from Frank Fenton, Marietta, and Dean Mealy, Muskingum.

A pair of seniors, John Rappaport, Toledo, and Melvin Windland, Mount Union, were placed at guards.

Whiting, a member of a family that has been allied closely with the brilliant chapters of Marietta's athletic history, lived up to the high standard expected of him. A speed merchant and an uncanny shot, the sophomore ace was the motivating factor in the Pioneers' title drive.

VIC GHEZZI IS WINNER IN HOLLYWOOD TOURNEY

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 6.—(UP)—Big Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., pro, today was $500 richer, having topped first money in the $2,500 Hollywood open golf tournament with a four-under-par card of 276 for 72 holes.

AMATEUR CARS TO BE RESUMED

Monday Evening to See Finals of C. A. C. Tourney

Several real battles are expected in the Circleville Athletic Club amateur boxing tournament finals Monday evening when a gold trophy and medals will be awarded winners.

One of the outstanding scraps will find Ned Thacher and Don Brannon mixing punches. Doc Ferguson is on the bill and so is Sherm Denny so there will be plenty of action.

The contest for the club championship trophy is being waged between Jackson-twps school and the C. A. C. The organization having the most winners will receive the grand prize.

Each fighter who wins in his class will be given a medal.

Because of the large crowd last week additional seats are being placed.

The evening's program starts at 8 o'clock.

BOBBY GRAYSON HIRED AS ASSISTANT COACH

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., March 6.—(UP)—Bobby Grayson, second only to Ernie Nevers in Stanford's football hall of fame, followed in the big blonde star's footsteps today as a member of the university's football coaching staff which has sent a Cardinal team to the Rose Bowl for three consecutive years.

Grayson was chosen by the Stanford board of athletic control last night to fill the assistant coaching job vacated when Nevers accepted the position of head coach at Lafayette university.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

A beautiful girl is madly in love with a man about whom the tentacles of suspicion squeeze tighter and tighter until he is almost convinced himself that he committed a brutal murder. That is the situation in which Margot Grahame and Walter Abel find themselves in RKO Radio's nerve tingling mystery drama, "Two in the Dark."

Margot in the role of a destitute show girl, is drawn, first by sympathy and then by love, to an amnesia victim, played by Abel, and she fights to extract him from the ominous web of ugly circumstances.

On the same bill is the outstanding stage attraction "Manhattan Revue" featuring 25 stars including the six American Dancers and the Radio Ramblers Band furnishing music that is sweet and hot.

AT THE GRAND

Aside from Western roles, which he admits are his favorite, Ricardo Cortez, First National leading man in "The Murder of Dr. Harrigan," which comes to the Grand theatre on Friday, would prefer the adventuresome part of a French foreign legionnaire.

Cortez is now playing the part of an interne in "The Murder of Dr. Harrigan," opposite Kay Linaker.

WATERLOO WONDERS INVADE C. A. C. GYM TONIGHT

GAME FEATURES COURT SEASON; LOCALS STRONG

Big Crowd Expected to Watch Sensational Lawrence-Co Five in Action

C. A. C. Waterloo
Purcell ..... F ..... Drummond
Beyrer ..... F ..... W. Roberts
Terhune ..... C ..... O. Roberts
Merriman ..... G ..... McMahon
Trego ..... G ..... Kaiser

There you are, and at about 8:30 o'clock this evening the above cagers will be playing their best in an effort to win a basketball game.

The Wonders, Waterloo's publicized cagers, invade the Athletic court for the feature basketball game of the year. Riding high on their record for the season, the team coached by Magellan Hairston hopes to take the Club cagers in stride, but before they do that will know they have been through a ball game.

Visitors Sensational
The C. A. C. hall is expected to be filled for the game because the Waterloo boys with their sensational passing and shooting attract hundreds wherever they appear. They always play a clean game of basketball, and it is only a rare occasion when the boys who start the game do not finish.

Four of the cagers, the Roberts boys, Beryl Drummond and Curtis McMahon, have played together for a long while. Kaiser, a Marshall college man, is the fifth athlete while Clark, also from Marshall, is the utility player. Hairston, the coach, always accompanies the boys and will attract about as much attention this evening as will his sharpshooters.

Club to be Strong
The C. A. C. crew has high hopes to bump the Wonders but is a decided underdog. The local cagers are in good shape and will put up a battle the whole way. Berger and Terhune are coaches in county schools, Trego is the former Commercial Point-Capital university star, and Purcell and Merriman are C.A.C. veterans. On the sidelines will be Goon Zeimer, Bill Hegele, and Art Walker. Shadel Saunders, expected to play with the club, will not be able to get here from Westerville, where his cagers are playing in the 'B' tournament, in time to don a uniform. Byron Eby, another member of the squad, has been ill and will not play.

A preliminary between the Junior C. A. C. team and some unnamed foe will start at 7:30. Free dancing has been provided after the game for the patrons. A local orchestra will play.

About This And That In Many Sports

Four Quintets Play

Circleville, Ashville, New Holland, and Pickaway-twps were in the midst of basketball tournaments today and this evening, the former team engaging Lancaster at Delaware, and the latter three vying for honors in the class 'B' meet at Westerville—Regardless of how the teams come out in their first round games cage fans are nearly unanimous that the county could not be better represented—The only doubt exists concerning the relative ability of the Pickaway entrant and the Williamsport boys ***

Anyway everyone back home is hoping for at least a couple of first round victories ***

Baseball Meeting

A meeting to attempt to organize Circleville, Ashville, New Holland, Mt. Sterling, Grove City, Lithopolis, and Canal Winchester into a baseball league will be held Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the Wilkins restaurant in Ashville—The meeting has been called by Joe Donnelly of the Athletic Supply Co., Columbus—There is considerable interest in several of the towns while the situation here stands at just this: "Where would we play?" ***

Billy Evans to Write

Billy Evans, former American league umpire, general manager of the Cleveland Indians, and now a Boston Red Sox minor league club executive, will soon be writing baseball items for The Herald ***

A Wise Decision

Decision of Ohio State university to remain out of the Olympic elimination contest is a wise one—The Bucks would probably get bumped early—The reason given is classroom time, and the fact that Captain Warren Whittinger feels the urge of a little jack and is playing professional basketball—It would seem that the mid-west will be poorly represented with Notre Dame, Purdue, and Indiana, all three stand out teams, remaining out of competition ***

Tales in Tidbits

AMONG THE hot recruits of the season is a pitcher named Joe Sullivan, trying out with the Senators at Orlando. . . . Joe is one of four Washington boys whose training camp expenses are being defrayed by F. M. Coffey, business man in the capital. . . . the others are Fitch Mathias, Bob Mathias and Reggie Brown. . . . it would be just Clark Griffith's luck if all four turned out to be winners.
Pedro Montanez, newest of the punching gauchos from Puerto Rico, is the son of a cattle buyer, and his boyhood ambition was to become a torador. . . . Pedro is only a lightweight, but if he grows there's still a chance for him to realize his youthful dream by beating Primo Carnera. . . . Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt maintains 80 hungry mouths into which he must pour oats daily. . . . it's the largest racing stable in America. . . . You probably don't remember, but badminton dates back to the thirteenth century in India. . . . they called it poona.

NEED OF STUDY HALTS BUCKEYES

Olson Keeps Team Out of Tourney; McDonald, Thomas Down

COLUMBUS, March 6.—(UP)—Ohio State today had joined Purdue, Indiana and Notre Dame as a sideline observer of the Fifth District Olympic elimination basketball tournament to be held next week at Chicago.

The Bucks, one of the seeded major schools, withdrew late yesterday following a conference between Coach Harold G. Olson and Athletic Director L. W. St. John.

Olson announced the withdrawal and said quarterly examinations, scheduled soon after the tournament, necessitated the move.

"We are wholeheartedly in sympathy with the tournament and would like to do our bit to make it a success," Olson said, "However, in fairness to the players we've decided to turn down our bid."

While examinations account in part for the withdrawal of Ohio State, there were other reasons back of the move.

Jim McDonald, Springfield, sophomore forward and a monogram winner in football, and Earl Thomas, Ashland, varsity center, are reported in bad scholastic standing. It was believed additional absence from the classroom would result in their ineligibility.

Two other members of the starting five, "Tippy" Dye and Jack Radebaugh, are baseball players and tournament competition would bring about an overlap of the two sports.

Captain Warren Whittinger, Zanesville, announced he had turned professional immediately upon the withdrawal of the Bucks. Whittinger played with a Coshocton team against the New York Renaissance last night. He scored 18 points as his team was beaten 47 to 39.

MILLER IN CUBA FOR BOUT WITH ECHEVARRIA

HAVANA, Cuba, March 6.—(UP)—Freddie Miller, Cincinnati, world featherweight boxing champion, worked out here today for his 10-round non-title bout with Fillo Echevarria of Spain at Cristal stadium Saturday night. Miller came here from Coral Gables, Fla., where he defended his title Monday night against Petey Sarron.

TWO SOPHOMORES MAKE U. P. ALL-OHIO QUINTET

COLUMBUS, March 6.—(UP)—Five athletes who stood out among an exceptionally large group of stars produced during a well balanced league race today were rewarded with places on the United Press' annual All-Ohio conference basketball team.

Coaches and newspapermen who co-operated in the selection of the team were unanimous in the belief the conference this season produced more individual brilliants than it had for many years. As a result the balloting for every position was close.

Two sophomores who were literally balls of fire throughout the campaign were given the forward positions. They were Jim Whitting of the championship Marietta quintet, and Nick Frascella, Wooster.

Sam Loucks, the rugged Otterbein pivotman, gained the center position. Loucks won the post by a narrow margin from Frank Fenton, Marietta, and Dean Mealy, Muskingum.

A pair of seniors, John Rappaport, Toledo, and Melvin Windland, Mount Union, were placed at guards.

Whiting, a member of a family that has been allied closely with the brilliant chapters of Marietta's athletic history, lived up to the high standard expected of him. A speed merchant and an uncanny shot, the sophomore ace was the motivating factor in the Pioneers' title drive.

VIC GHEZZI IS WINNER IN HOLLYWOOD TOURNEY

HOLLYWOOD, Fla., March 6.—(UP)—Big Vic Ghezzi, Deal, N. J., pro, today was $500 richer, having topped first money in the $2,500 Hollywood open golf tournament with a four-under-par card of 276 for 72 holes.

AMATEUR CARD TO BE RESUMED

Monday Evening to See Finals of C. A. C. Tourney

Several real battles are expected in the Circleville Athletic Club amateur boxing tournament finals Monday evening when a gold trophy and medals will be awarded winners.

One of the outstanding scraps will find Ned Thacher and Don Brannon mixing punches. Doc Ferguson is on the bill and so is Sherm Denny so there will be plenty of action.

The contest for the club championship trophy is being waged between Jackson-twps school and the C. A. C. The organization having the most winners will receive the grand prize.

Each fighter who wins in his class will be given a medal. Because of the large crowd last week additional seats are being placed.

The evening's program starts at 8 o'clock.

BOBBY GRAYSON HIRED AS ASSISTANT COACH

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. March 6.—(UP)—Bobby Grayson, second only to Ernie Nevers in Stanford's football hall of fame, followed in the big blonde star's footsteps today as a member of the university's football coaching staff which has sent a Cardinal team to the Rose Bowl for three consecutive years.
Grayson was chosen by the Stanford board of athletic control last night to fill the assistant coaching job vacated when Nevers accepted the position of head coach at Lafayette university.

AT THE CLIFTONA

A beautiful girl is madly in love with a man about whom the tentacles of suspicion squeeze tighter and tighter until he is almost convinced himself that he committed a brutal murder.

That is the situation in which Margot Grahame and Walter Abel find themselves in RKO Radio's nerve tingling mystery drama, "Two in the Dark."

Margot in the role of a destitute show girl, is drawn, first by sympathy and then by love, to an amnesia victim, played by Abel, and she fights to extract him from the ominous web of ugly circumstances.

On the same bill is the outstanding stage attraction "Manhattan Revue" featuring 25 stars including the six American Dancers and the Radio Ramblers Band furnishing music that is sweet and hot.

AT THE GRAND

SENATE VOTE ON POWER BILL BOOSTS RURAL HOPES

ACTION OF FARM LEADERS HELPS NORRIS MEASURE

1,278 Pickaway-Co Farms Ready to Obtain Electricity's Advantages

Rural electrification appeared a step nearer Pickaway-co farmers Friday when the $420,000,000 Norris electrification bill was before the house after passing the Senate without a record vote. Backed by the administration, its adoption was expected.

Farm Bureau officials of this district at their quarterly meeting held here recently adopted a resolution urging passage of the bill and forwarded copies to Senator Ellis D. Smith, chairman of the agricultural committee, Ohio Senators Vic Donahey and Robert Bulkley, and Rep. Sam Rayburn. Representatives attending the meeting covered Pickaway, Fairfield, Hocking and Ross counties.

Appropriation Fixed

The bill calls for a yearly appropriation of $50,000,000 to the Rural Electrification administration for two years. Thereafter for eight years the bill authorizes the appropriation of $40,000,000 annually out of regular treasury funds.

Loans may be made to states, territories, municipalities, and farm cooperatives as well as people's utility districts. They would be made at three per cent interest and are repayable in 25 years.

The loans would be used for transmission and distribution lines, generating plants, and electrical and plumbing appliances.

Loans for financing the wiring of farm homes are provided for in full. These loans would be made to any person, firm, or corporation supplying or installing wiring, appliances, or equipment.

Approximately 1,278 farms are listed under the county's R. E. A. program as potential users covering 301 miles of roadways. The county project is listed at $107,359.

PERRY-CO MAN AFTER ELECTION

D. F. Trew, Shawnee Attorney, Would Succeed Underwood

NEW LEXINGTON, March 6.—Perry-co Democrats have unified to send to congress another of their citizens to succeed Mel G. Underwood, who soon will resign the office to become Federal Judge in the Southern Ohio District, and have unanimously selected Attorney D. F. Trew, Shawnee, former prosecuting attorney, as their candidate.

Trew, a Democrat, is widely known politically. He has conducted a successful law practice here, having as his former associates the late Judge John T. Pyle, who served as a Circuit Judge in the Common Pleas Courts of Perry, Monroe and Athens and Washington counties, also Judge U. S. McGonagle, who was appointed by Governor Martin L. Davey to the local Common Pleas Bench to succeed Judge T. D. Price at his death.

Judge Price shortly before his death, appointed Attorney Trew as county prosecuting attorney to fill out the term of Dwight Cusick, who also was summoned by death.

Trew is 44 years of age, married and has two children. Graduating from Ohio State University Law College in June, 1915, he was admitted to the bar the same month, and the following August completed his business course at Bliss College, Columbus.

SENATE VOTE ON POWER BILL BOOSTS RURAL HOPES

ACTION OF FARM LEADERS HELPS NORRIS MEASURE

1,278 Pickaway-Co Farms Ready to Obtain Electricity's Advantages

Rural electrification appeared a step nearer Pickaway-co farmers Friday when the $420,000,000 Norris electrification bill was before the house after passing the Senate without a record vote. Backed by the administration, its adoption was expected.

Farm Bureau officials of this district at their quarterly meeting held here recently adopted a resolution urging passage of the bill and forwarded copies to Senator Ellis D. Smith, chairman of the agricultural committee, Ohio Senators Vic Donahey and Robert Bulkeley, and Rep. Sam Rayburn. Representatives attending the meeting covered Pickaway, Fairfield, Hocking and Ross counties.

Appropriation Fixed
The bill calls for a yearly appropriation of $50,000,000 to the Rural Electrification administration for two years. Thereafter for eight years the bill authorizes the appropriation of $40,000,000 annually out of regular treasury funds.

Loans may be made to states, territories, municipalities, and farm cooperatives as well as people's utility districts. They would be made at three per cent interest and are repayable in 25 years.

The loans would be used for transmission and distribution lines, generating plants, and electrical and plumbing appliances.

Loans for financing the wiring of farm homes are provided for in the bill. These loans would be made to any person, firm, or corporation supplying or installing the wiring, appliances, or equipment.

Approximately 1,278 farms are listed under the county's R. E. A. program as potential users covering 301 miles of roadways. The county project is listed at $407,359.

PERRY-CO MAN AFTER ELECTION

D. F. Trew, Shawnee Attorney, Would Succeed Underwood

NEW LEXINGTON, March 6.—Perry-co Democrats have unified to send to congress another of their citizens to succeed Mell G. Underwood, who soon will resign the office to become Federal Judge in the Southern Ohio District, and have unanimously selected Attorney D. F. Trew, Shawnee, former prosecuting attorney, as their candidate.

Trew, a Democrat, is widely known politically. He has conducted a successful law practice here, having as his former associates the late Judge John T. Pyle, who served as a Circuit Judge in the Common Pleas Courts of Perry, Monroe and Athens and Washington counties, also Judge U. S. McGonagle, who was appointed by Governor Martin L. Davey to the local Common Pleas Bench to succeed Judge T. D. Price at his death.

Judge Price shortly before his death, appointed Attorney Trew as county prosecuting attorney to fill out the term of Dwight Cusick, who also was summoned by death.

Trew is 44 years of age, married and has two children. Graduating from Ohio State University Law College in June, 1915, he was admitted to the bar the same month, and the following August completed his business course at Bliss College, Columbus.

The Brazilian government has offered a prize of about $4,000 to the inventor of a machine for extraction of carnauba wax.

STANFORD PAY CUT LIKELY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. (UP)—Owing to the reduction of interest returns on Stanford University's investments, President Ray Lyman Wilbur has notified the faculty a further reduction of salaries may be necessary. One 10 per cent cut has already been made.
